from the 42 Parishes

● ● ● that comprise the central district of the Pittsburgh metropolitan area come the nineteen hundred students who people Central District Catholic High School. Starting at the confluence of the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Ohio Rivers at the Golden Triangle with the Church of St. Mary of Mercy, the parishes that populate Central Catholic span eastward to St. Bartholomew in Penn Township and St. Anselm in Swissvale. Since the parochial school and parish life itself have formed an integral part of the lives of each Central Catholic student for all his school days, we have chosen the parishes from which our boys come as the theme of the 1957 TOWERS.

Firm Foundations for Future Years

NATIONAL PARISHES, once prominent in the diocese of Pittsburgh, are prominent today more as exceptions to the geographically established parishes. Here, Louis Kubus enters one of the remaining national parishes, St. Ann's in Hazelwood.

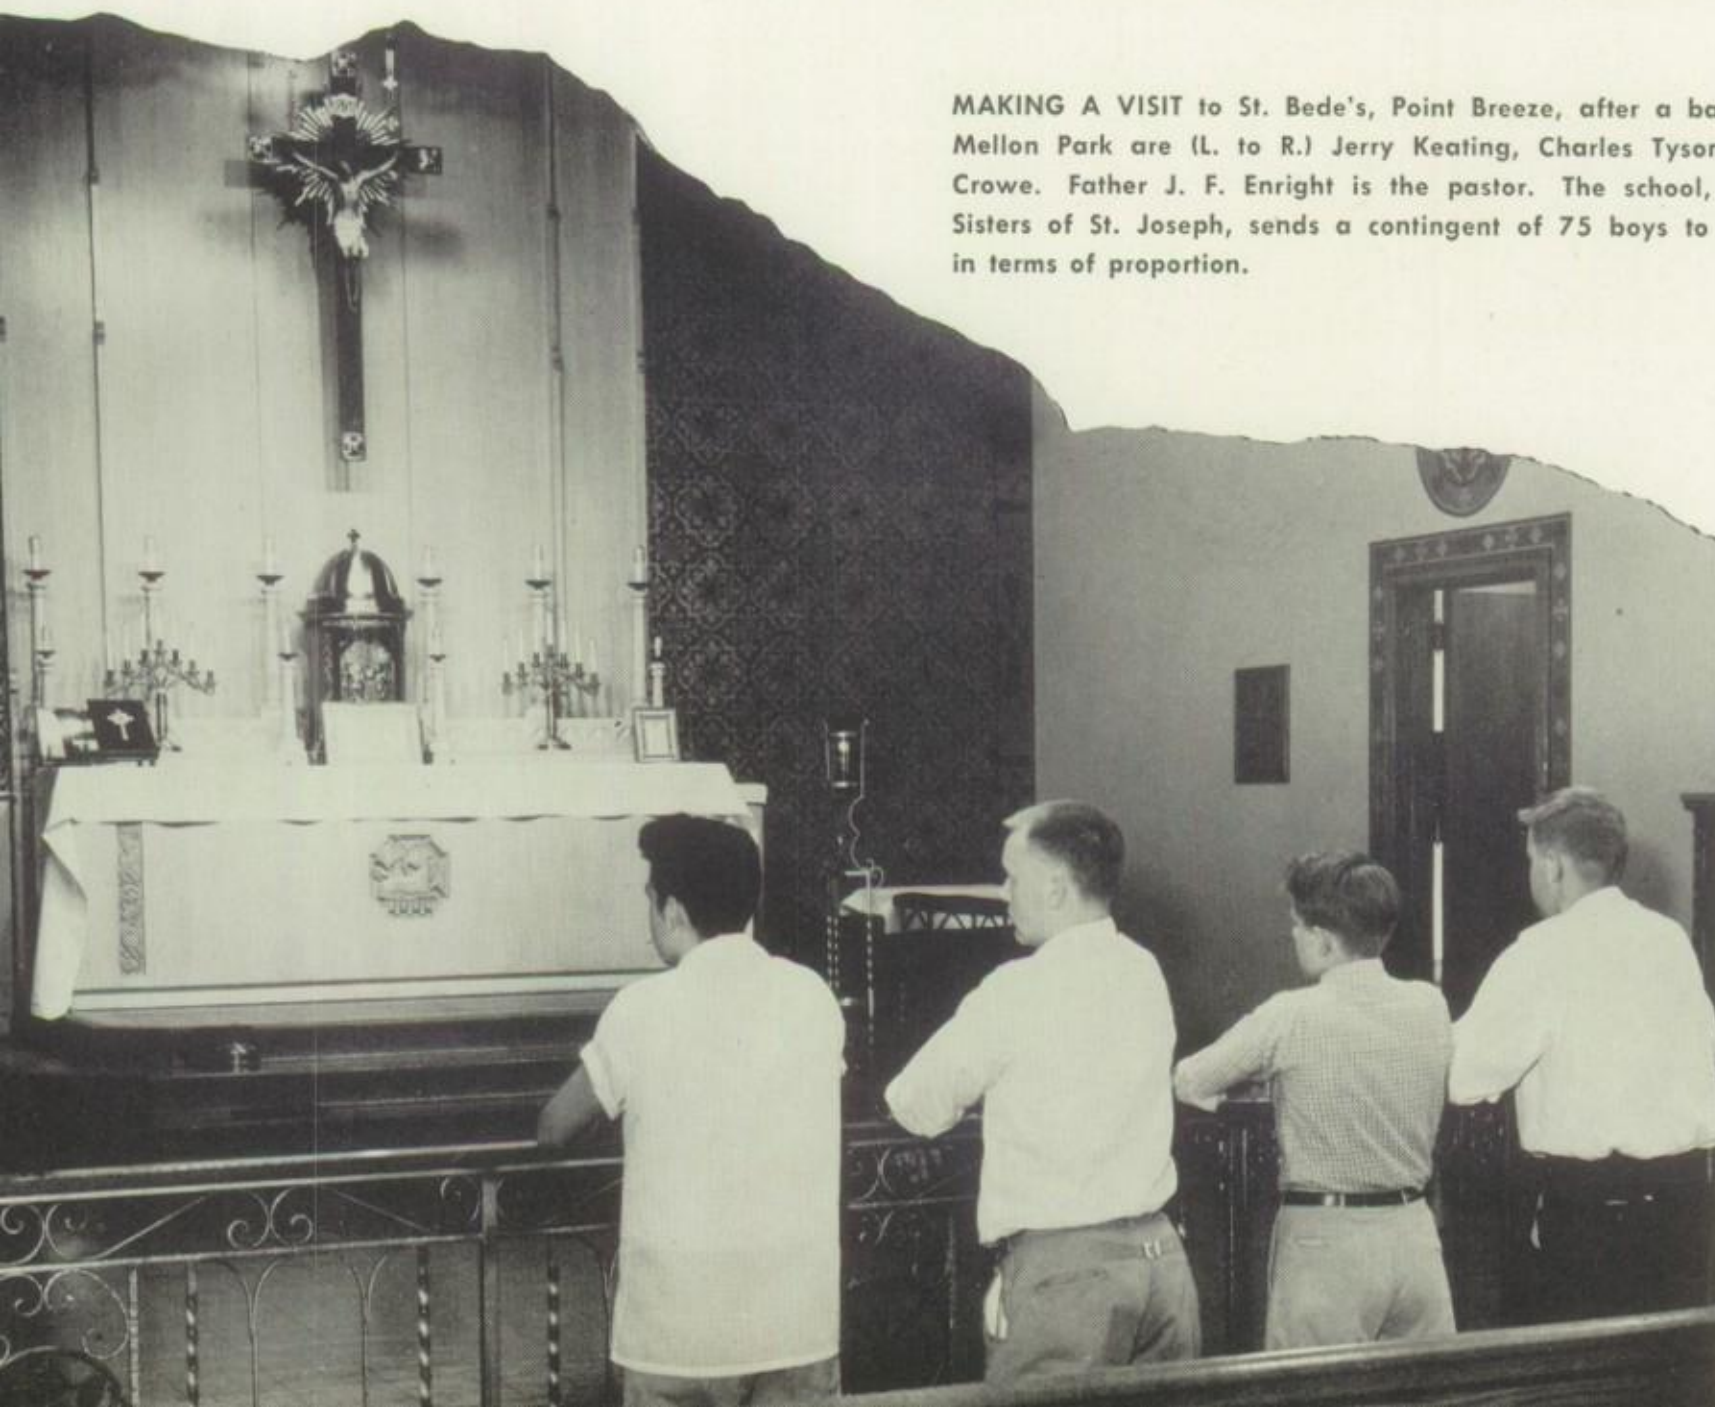

KNEELING REVERENTLY before the beautiful Gothic altar of St. James in Wilksburg is senior James Armstrong. Father Joseph Mitsch, pastor of St. James, cares for the spiritual welfare of seventy boys who come to Central from St. James. Seton Hill Sisters of Charity staff the parochial school.

PICTURED BEFORE THE ALTAR of St. Stanislaus Church is one of the four Sisters of the Holy Family, who teach in the school. The spiritual needs of the parish are under the care of Father John P. Janczuk, C.S.Sp. Ten boys make their way to Central every morning from St. Stanislaus.

PREPARING TO PAY a visit to their former teachers, the Sisters of Charity, Centralites Donald Adams, Bert Scheib, and Jim Miller pause at the entrance of the convent. Under the auspices of the Most Rev. Coleman F. Carroll, Sacred Heart, with a grade school enrollment of 930 pupils, sends 114 boys to Central.

MAKING A VISIT to St. Bede's, Point Breeze, after a basketball game at nearby Mellon Park are (L. to R.) Jerry Keating, Charles Tyson, Jack Dauer, and John Crowe. Father J. F. Enright is the pastor. The school, which is staffed by the Sisters of St. Joseph, sends a contingent of 75 boys to Central, a large number in terms of proportion.

Are Begun in Parishes

AFTER SATURDAY AFTERNOON confessions, two Central-ites, Steve Schultz and Raymond Birch, stop to talk to Father Joseph Fitzpatrick, pastor of St. John Baptist Parish. Twenty-one Seton Hill Sisters of Charity teach daily in the school of 386 pupils. This Church, located in Lawrenceville, contributes thirty-three students to Central High.

A SISTER OF CHARITY from the House of Mary prays before the altar of St. Brigid's Parish Church. Father Paul Bassompierre, who is head of the St. Vincent DePaul Society of Pittsburgh, is pastor of the parish.

and Nourished by Faithful Sisters

BEFORE THE SHRINE of Our Lady of Grace on the grounds of St. Raphael's, Morningside, are Paul Keenan and Joseph Boyer. Appointed to the responsibilities of pastor is Father S. A. Doyle. During the current year, this parish has had 98 of its parishioners attending Central. The grade school is staffed by the Baden Sisters of St. Joseph.

MODERN ARCHITECTURE has established itself on the Central scene through the bright, up-to-date church recently erected by the long established parish of Corpus Christi. Proudly standing in front of their parish on Lincoln Avenue are Peter Aul, Fred Blahut, Raymond Montestabile, and Richard Aul. From Father H. M. Connelly's parish, sixty-nine boys make their way to Central every morning. Ten Mt. Alvernia Sisters of St. Francis teach in the grade school.

Tribute to

THE JUBILARIAN'S banquet that followed the Mass and reception of our Principal, Brother Frederick John, last October included among the guests at the main table, Father James Hanlon, cousin of Brother and celebrant of the jubilee Mass, Brother John himself, Father James Mulhern, cousin of Brother John, Brother F. Vincent, Brother G. Vincent, and Very Rev. Monsignor Thomas J. Quigley.

A MOMENT TO REMEMBER in the life of Brother Demetrius James, our Silver Jubilarian of last December, was the privilege of having his mother share in the testimonial of Brother's twenty-five years of service to the Lord as a Christian Brother. With his mother, Brother James stands here immediately after the Jubilee Mass at the entrance to the faculty house.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF DEDICATION

Brother Frederick John

Through his work as Student Counsellor, Vice-Principal, and now as Principal, Brother Frederick John has exerted a magnetic influence at Central that has quietly spread his leaven of faith, professional competence, holiness, serenity, patience, peace. Brother John's ever-approachable personality, his never-failing calm, his thoughtfulness, and saving sense of humor have engendered in us a respect that is indeed unique. It is in admiration of his understanding, vision, common sense, and, above all, saintliness of manner, then, that we offer our most sincere congratulations to our Silver Jubilarian and Principal, Brother John.

Our heartfelt best wishes extend also to our other Silver Jubilarian, Brother Demetrius James, freshman history instructor and mentor of the tennis team. Since his coming to Central in 1951, Brother James has ever been an example of dedication to the painstaking task of teaching. With our congratulations, we feel that we have profited from Brother's zeal, faith, interest, and good example in a measure that will be determined only in eternity.

Brother Demetrius James

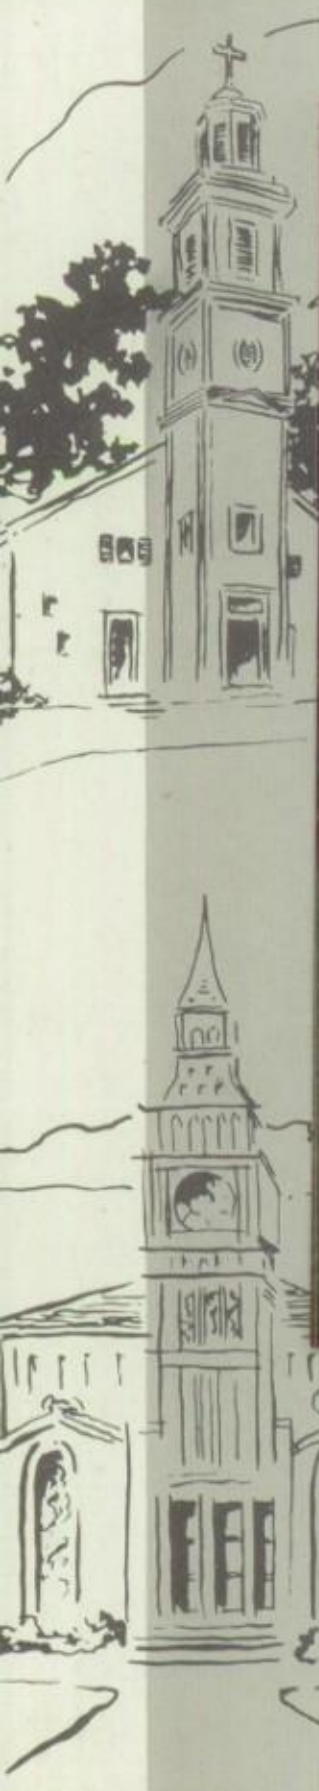

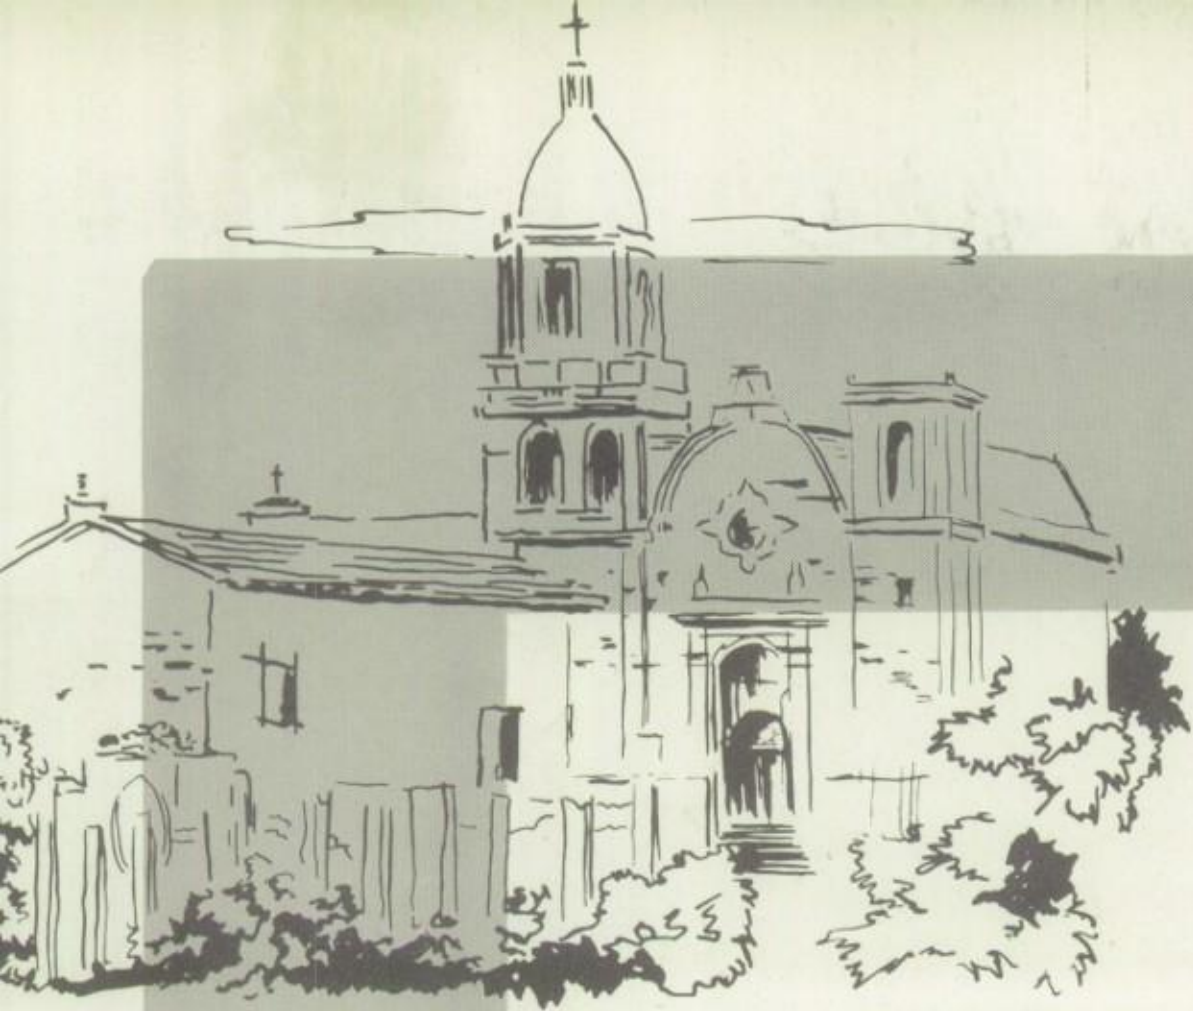

BROTHER FREDERICK JOHN, who began his first year as Principal at Central this year, commemorated also this year his Silver Jubilee as a Christian Brother.

BROTHER DEMETRIUS JAMES, freshman history instructor and moderator of the tennis team, with Brother John this year observed his twenty-fifth year as a Brother.

THE LIVING ROSARY was climaxed in October with the entire student body participating in the recitation of the rosary in the school quadrangle. After the singing of hymns in honor of Our Lady and the recitation of the rosary, Father Louis Nene, graduate of Central and professor at Mount Mercy College, delivered a talk on the Most Blessed Virgin.

Forty-two Brothers of the Christian Schools and fourteen lay teachers form the faculty who instruct some four hundred underclassmen and four hundred seniors. Through the merging of individual boys on a non-parochial basis each homeroom represents approximately twenty parishes and thus represents a unity in which the best characteristics of each student and each parish are pooled.

EPIPHANY CHURCH, downtown Pittsburgh, under the direction of Father Lawrence A. O'Connell, LL.D., is the home parish of twenty-five Centralites. Sisters of Mercy inculcate the fundamentals of learning to the grade school boys of Epiphany. Before the votive lights at Epiphany Church are John McAvoy, and Richard Ricardi.

THE COMMUNITY ROOM of the faculty house proves appropriate place for sharing mutual interests and problems for the Brothers. As Brother Emilian checks with Brother Theodore (back to camera) on a departmental examination for the juniors, Brothers Leo, Gilbert and Maurice (standing) find articles of interest while paging through THE SIGN magazine.

ST. REGIS Church and School, till comparatively recently listed as St. Paul's Cathedral No. 2, boasts of its proximity to Central and to the sports and cultural areas of interest in the Oakland district. Before the school staffed by the Sisters of Mercy are John O'Brien and Peter Sammartino.

THE BACCALAUREATE MASS, held each year at our "home parish," St. Paul's Cathedral, inaugurates the ceremonies of graduation with the special Mass to call the blessing of God on all the graduates. Standing at the beginning of the Baccalaureate Mass are last year's graduates.

GATHERED INFORMALLY in front of St. Stephen's Church, Hazelwood, James Zewe and Tom Donaghy reminisce with three of their former teachers. St. Stephen's parish, under the guidance of Father Denis N. Murphy and 22 Seton Hill Sisters of Charity, contributes a larger number of students than any other parish to the Central student body.

Of the Central Tradition

EVERYONE LOOKS FOR his name in the parish bulletin and Centralites George Mitchell, Albert Delmontagne, John Munda, and Francis Hudak are no exceptions. Helping in the search is Father Michael Faidel, the pastor of St. Joachim's Church, Greenfield. Four Vincentian Sisters of Charity teach in the grade school of 117 pupils.

ADDITIONS TO the Central scene this year include two new mascots. As their official custodian, Brother Eugene Edwin looks on, Happy II and Gus rest their less than four months' old bones in the mid-day sun.

ENJOYING ONE OF John Gonsowski's experiences at Central are Father De Paul and Father Eric, Capuchin Franciscan priests from St. Augustine Monastery and parish in Lawrenceville. The parish school, taught by Mt. Alvernia Sisters of St. Francis, regularly averages fifty students at Central Catholic, while some six hundred students are in the grade school.

SISTER GREGORY, S.M., Principal of St. Paul's Cathedral Grade School, knows every one of the eighty-five Cathedral boys who attend Central. Here Sister chats with Cathedral alumni John Roller, Pat Culleen, Dennis Boehme, and Vince Sortino. Rt. Reverend Msgr. Andrew J. Pauley, rector of the Cathedral, has been adopted "pastor" of the graduates for the past three years through his excellent senior retreat.

The Struggle Amid Towering Feelings

PREPARING THE ALTAR for Sunday Mass at Holy Rosary Church, Homewood, are Dennis Heiry, who is lighting the candles, and Frank Klingensmith, who is setting up the bookstand. This parish, under the able supervision of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry A. Carlin, accounts for 92 of the Central student body this year. Teaching in the school of 976 pupils are 27 Sisters of St. Joseph.

SHOWING A CENTRAL BOY'S devotion to the Blessed Virgin are (L. to R.): Joe Studnicki, Bob Welsch, and Ed Dombrowski. These boys are kneeling at the side altar of St. Hyacinth Church, which has as its pastor Father H. Radwanski. The parish has thirteen boys presently attending Central. Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth staff the school.

Midway Toward Their Goal

ST. PETER THE APOSTLE, Fernando Street, boasts of one of the finest reproductions of the Lourdes grotto in the Pittsburgh area. At the shrine of Our Lady on the grounds of St. Peter's are Victor Berardelli and Lew Bucci with their former teachers, Sister Kenneth and Mother Beatrix, Franciscan Sisters of the Immaculate Conception. Father Aloysius Costa, O.F.M., S.T.D., is Pastor.

Upperclassmen, Juniors Show "Know-How"

IMMACULATE HEART SISTERS, instructors in St. Rosalia's School, Greenfield, stand before the parish church to listen to the adventures of their former students Richard Moore, Chris Magee, Leo Kuba, Richard Hammer, and Phil Wattay. Father Raymond Doherty, Pastor, recently inaugurated a building program for the girls' high school attached to the parish.

REPORT CARDS, distributed quarterly, must be secured at the parish school for graduates of Immaculate Conception School, Bloomfield. Waiting for their pastor, Father Albert A. Farina, to arrive with the lethal card-board are A. Bartoldi, L. Fantozzi, A. Hermann, R. Liberatore, and L. Ramito. The grade school, staffed by Sisters of the Holy Ghost, accounts for fifty boys at Central.

Our Faith: Ever Font and Finis of Our Day

THE BROTHERS' CHAPEL becomes the home parish of each Central student during the school week when he visits Christ in the Blessed Sacrament during lunch period. At the Silver Jubilee Mass of Brother John, Principal, the rich splendor of the Flemish-Gothic architecture of the chapel appears. Father Hanlon, cousin of Brother John, celebrates the Jubilee Mass as Brothers Jerome and Bonaventure serve as acolytes.

REPRESENTATIVES OF the main school activities, sporting the identification of their parish, stand before Mellon Institute. Parishes and their representatives include Holy Rosary: E. O'Connor, D. Heiry, W. Davies, T. Wash, D. Bostlett, R. Deasy; Cathedral: D. Edwards, J. Dunn, S. Sortino, J. Wrabley, D. Boehme; St. Raphael: J. Dean, D. Kompare, R. Regal, R. Scott; St. James: D. EXECUTIVE SUITE in Office "A" provides appropriate backdrop for the counseling of junior class presidents by School President Jim Miller. Seated, in usual order, are Joseph Sundy, Louis Vitti, John Ryan, Albert Delmontagne, Daniel McFadden, Peter Simcic, Dick Deasy, and Jerry Bender.

CAREER DAY, a Student Council activity sponsored in conjunction with Brother Martin, Guidance Director, and the school Alumni, included representatives from the U. S. armed forces. Here, a veteran U. S. Marine readies a projector for a demonstration film as Frank Shallo, Tony Sarsfield, Jim Miller, and others look on.

WINTER SLIGHTLY OUTDID the 'Fantasy' on the night of the annual winter prom, dubbed this year "Winter Fantasy." Arriving amid opposition of cold and rain in front of Hotel Webster Hall for the much-anticipated formal are Phil Doherty and Hugh Dowds and dates.

NOTHING OTHER than the very well attended Central Saturday night dances could pack the stairway from first floor to the balcony of the gym. Leading the descent to the dance floor are sophomore Modzelewski, Leonard and Joe.

JACK WARGO, Vice-President of the Student Council

Activities Centered on

WINTER WONDERLAND for most seniors and juniors came on December 28 at the annual formal. Dancing to the music of Tommy Carlin and his Carlinairs are Bob Gordon and Frank Sahllo and their dates.

DENNY KOMPARE, Secretary of the Student Council.

FRESHMAN CLASS Presidents join the upperclassmen in meetings each month. As Arthur Miller, 2 F prexy, reads over the minutes from the last meeting, the other freshman leaders distractedly await their turn to offer suggestions. They are (seated) Anthony Bucci, George Klein, Andrew Sebastian, John Tocaso, John Hanka; (standing): James Palmiere, Thomas Lilly, Fred DiOrio, Donald Grego, Russell Prata.

CHAPERONES for the Winter Formal gather round their reception table to check programs and the Mother of Pearl compacts that were the favors for the prom. As Mr. Louis Grande and Mr. Frank Ambrose look toward the dance floor, Mrs. Grande speaks to Mrs. Ambrose and Mr. and Mrs. John Briley chat with Brother Thomas, S.C. Moderator.

MARTY MORAN, Treasurer of the Student Council.

SATURDAY DANCE COMMITTEE members are among the unsung heroes of the week-end at Central. Decorating, preparing the gym, and cleaning up after the dance embody the work of the group. Placing lights for one of the "New Year's Capers" dances are Frank Landgraff, John Mieczkowski, Jack Dauer, Joseph Blatnica, Phil Wattay, and Ed Caspero.

THE DISC-JOCKEY booth in the gym undergoes check-up by dance committee head, Denny Kompare. As Denny checks the record supply, his brother Wayne and Denny Heiry offer suggestions for new recordings.

BOB GENNUSO, Jerry Bender, and Joe Friday fold the Central Banner after one of the Saturday night dances. This year, the Catholic girls' schools of the central area were invited to help the Student Council decorate for the Saturday dances.

Student-Inspired

AMID THE BACKDROP of falling snow and the frozen car window, seniors Bob Del Pizzo and Bob Capozzoli and their dates arrive at the Christmas prom.

AS MR. GRANDE readies his presentation of programs and favors, Bill Gregory and George Morrisard and their dates enter the Georgian Room of the Hotel Webster Hall on that climactic night of the Christmas holidays, December 28.

Dances, Proms,

FIVE HUNDRED and more teenagers throng regularly to the bi-weekly dances held in the school gym and, through a dance committee, sponsored by the Student Council. This scene shows the dance floor at the "Harvest Hop" before complete crowd arrived.

Career Day and

A MORE SERIOUS MOMENT at the Christmas Formal at Hotel Webster Hall seems to have struck this corner near the Christmas tree. The Corpus Christi-St. Walburga contingent of Rege Ryan, Mike Somma, Joe Freiland, Dan McFadden, Bruce Kissell and their dates debate over whether Holiday House or Dinty Moore's will be the first of their post-prom stops.

KING AND QUEEN at the "Fantasy in Frost" formal are introduced to the junior and senior audience by Denny Kompare, Prom Chairman. As Mrs. Regis Sheehan, President of the Mothers' Guild and selector of the royal couple, looks on, King Frank Catanese and Queen Janice Cirincione accept Denny's congratulations before dancing the royal waltz.

NATURAL SETTING for a frosty fantasy and the seasonal setting of the Christmas holidays form the atmosphere and Tommy Carlyn and his Carlynaires provide the mood for the annual prom at the Hotel Webster Hall.

SIGNING UP for the last dance at the Starlight Ball, last year's Maytime Junior Prom, Marlene Stover seems only half so happy as her date James Ferrante.

THE NIGHT OF NIGHTS FOR the juniors' social register, that May Friday night that means the first formal for most underclassmen, finds Bill Vargo most willingly posing with his enchanting date, Carol Brown.

THE ROYAL TABLE seems conversationless with awe as Jim Cotter and his date June Tarczak relax after the selection of the king and queen of the Starlight Ball. Unofficial courtmen Tom Flanagan, Marty Moran and his date, Sandra Fodor, take a double pause that refreshes.

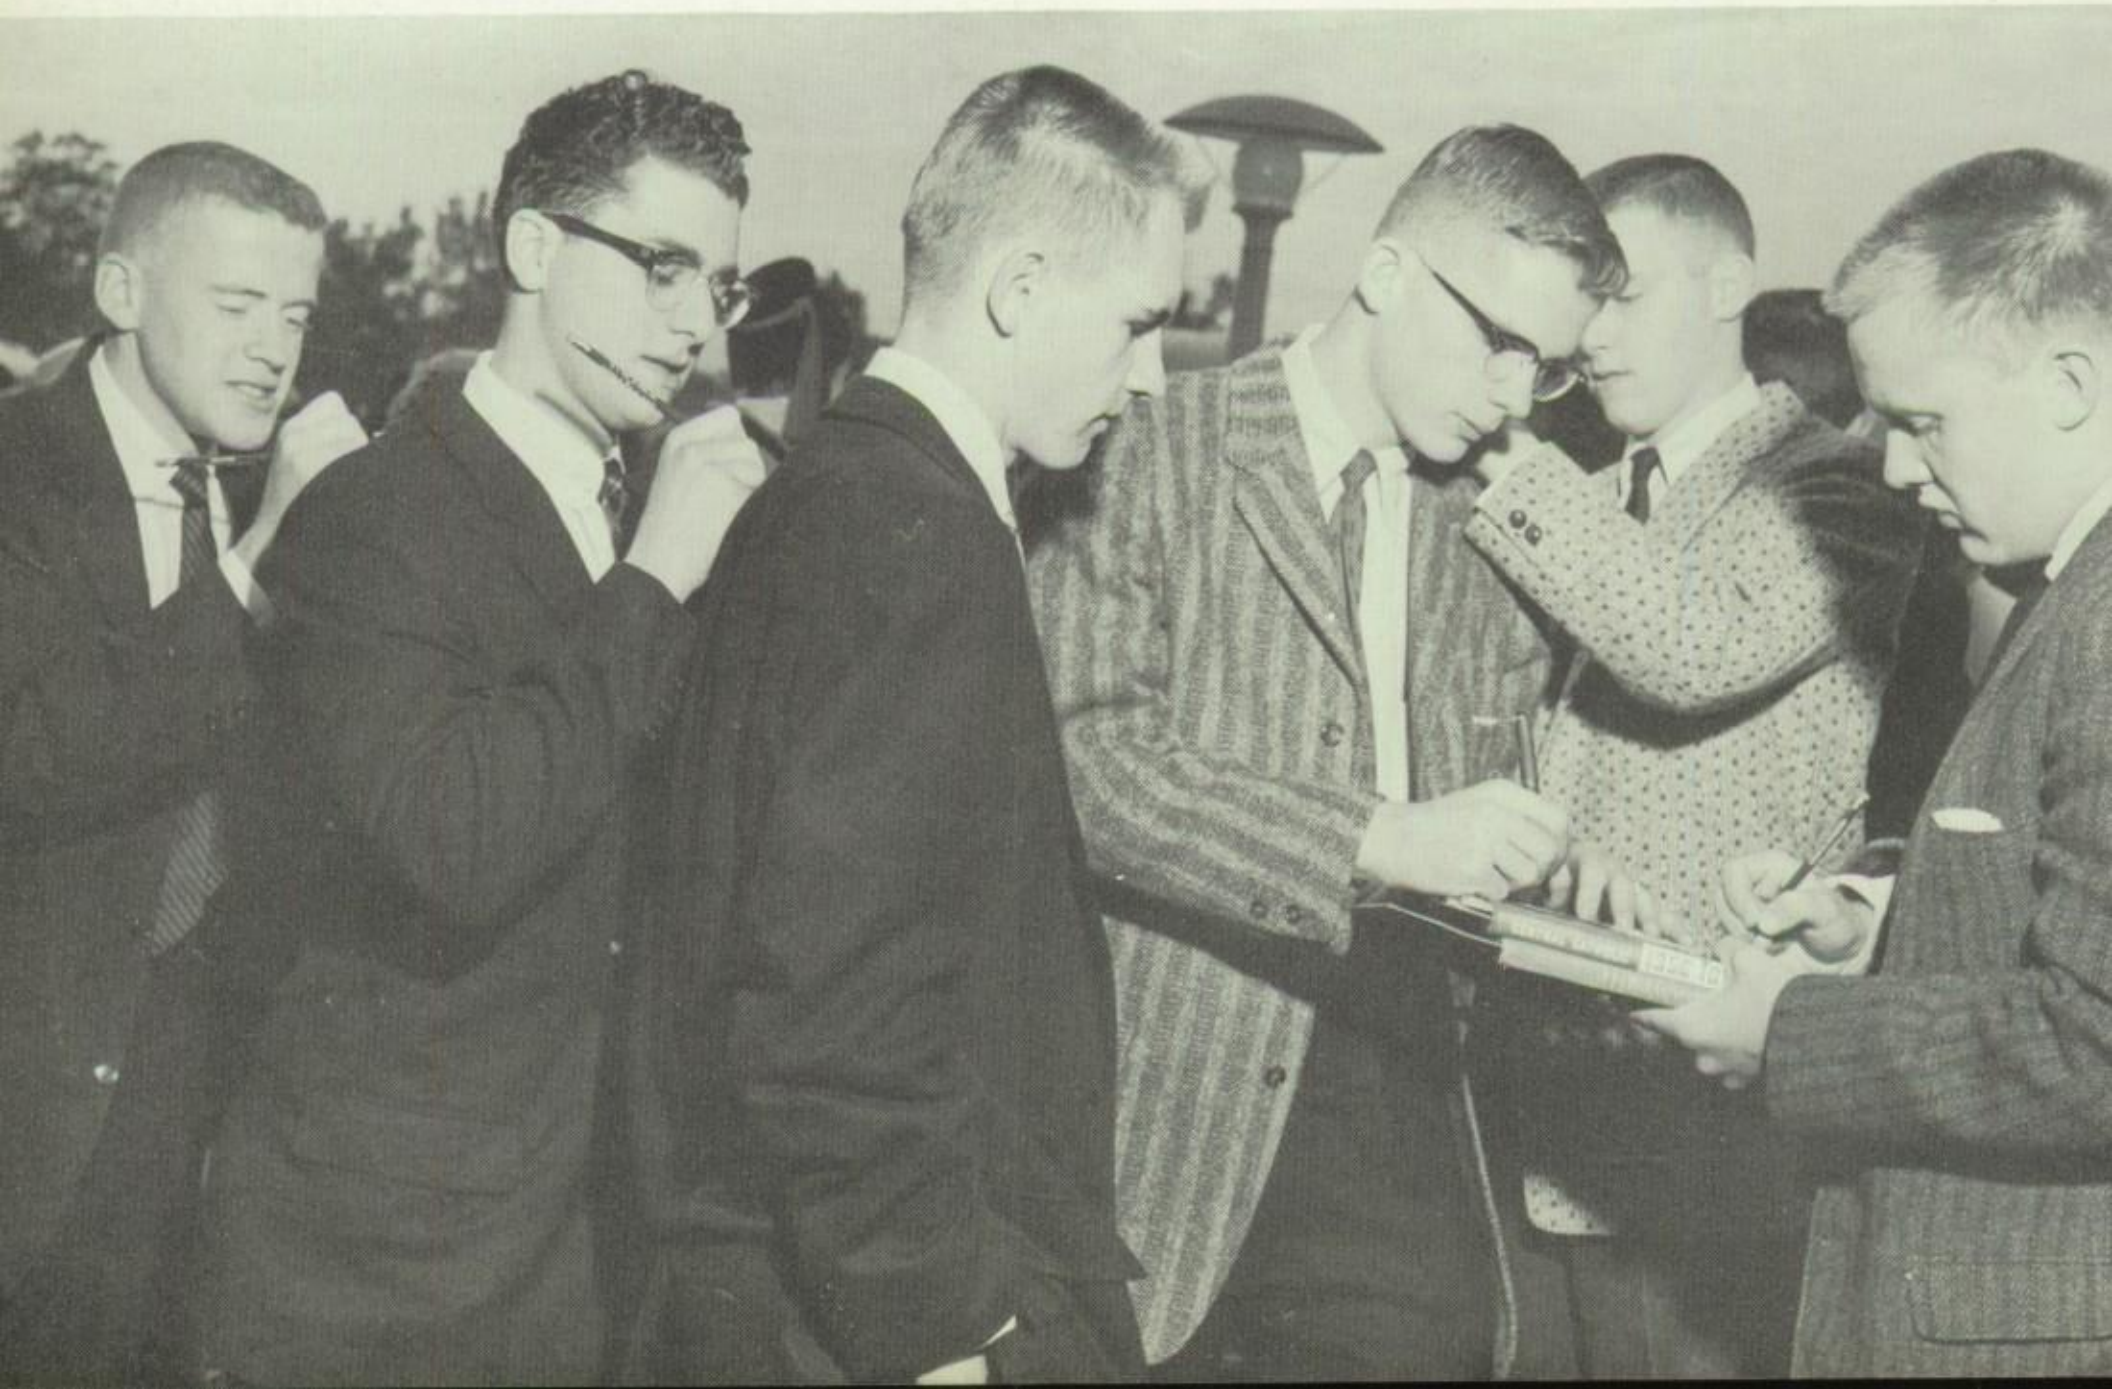

Reporter of Local Import:

PROOFREADER'S MARKS, essential knowledge for the efficient editor, seem easy enough as explained by VIKING editor, Emery Hanley. Recipients of the editor's instructions are Jim O'Brien, Thomas Masaro, Dave Kaplan, and Terry De Luca.

THE VIKING

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Emery Hanley directed the issues of the VIKING for the current school year. Perched professionally at the main desk in the Publications' Office, Emery prepares the assignment list for an issue of the paper. Without journalism classes, the school paper has managed to maintain standards that have merited the Medalist Award from Columbia University and the Pitt Award from the University of Pittsburgh.

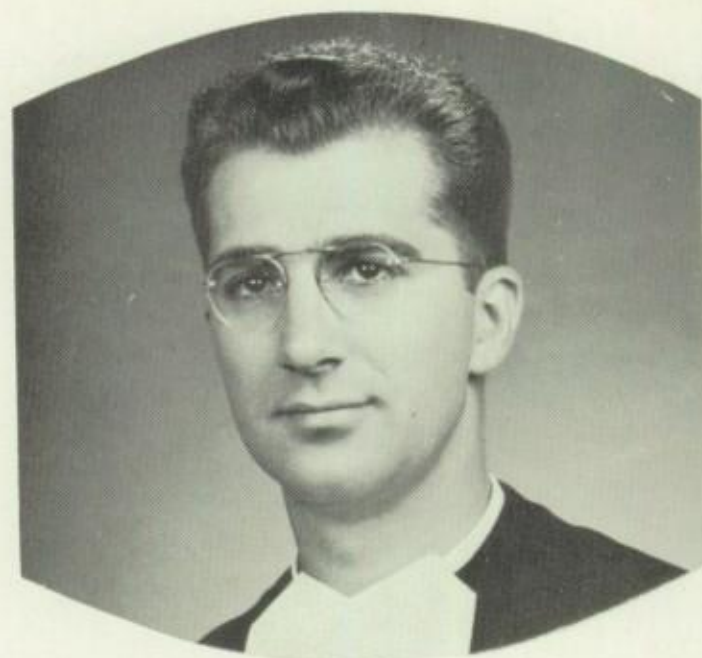

REGE CORDIC, as off-handed in an interview as he is in his daily disc-jockey services, granted the VIKING an official interview of his candidate for the presidency, Carman Monoxide, through reporter Terry De Luca. Besides this interview, Rege taped a five-minute recording to plug the school yearbook, which later was heard over the school public address system.

With Memories of "Carousel"

BROTHER THEODORE, Director of Musicale and Operetta.

TEARS CHOKE Louise (M. Curto) as she hears the moving speech of Dr. Sheldon (L. Wagner). The other graduates in the commencement scene in "Carousel" were C. Jessen, T. Onufer, and B. Staudt. The parents include M. Buleha, D. Boehme, L. Collins, J. Carroll, T. R. Palumbo, J. Shanley, K. Kukla, E. Caspero, M. Harbaugh, J. Grabowski, K. O'Malley, J. Knaiz, and C. Pantano.

LARRY COLLINS as Billy Bigelow in the Rogers and Hammerstein hit "Carousel."

"STONECUTTERS CUT IT ON STONE" blast forth the "Carousel" cast at the opening of the second act. Members of the Central cast, privileged to be the first high school to produce the long run Broadway play, here are K. Kukla, J. O'Brien, M. Curto, C. Pantano, R. Wittig, D. Burr, T. Godino (back to camera), J. Sable, M. Buleha, and M. Harbaugh.

DEATH STRIKES Billy Bigelow (L. Collins) suddenly during his attempt to rob a steamship. Mourning Billy and thus bringing a chord of sorrow into her usually gay life is the owner of the Carousel, Mrs. Mullins (M. Diosdado).

DANCE OF THE HORNS featured fast and graceful movement that made the choreography of "Carousel" outstanding as Mary Ann Curto and Charles Jessen gaily gambol through the turn of the century number.

FROM WORTHLESS ONE to Wazir is climaxed in this scene as Jacques (Frank Klingensmith) is elevated from a lowly janitor to a position of importance as the adviser to the Caliph. Gathered to sing praises to their new masters are the members of the harem and the ex-Wazir's guards: C. Pantano, M. Harbaugh, J. Shanley, K. O'Malley, R. Ekiert, J. O'Brien, A. Aquaviva, J. Sable, T. Godino, L. Wagner, C. Jessen, R. McKenna, and J. Knaiz.

JAZZING IT UP as they give forth with some of the music that made the Mardi Gras scene a big scene of the show is the Vikingland Six. Depicting life in New Orleans in the early 'twenties are Joe Palumbo, Jim Ferrante, Dave Bostlett, Don Ross, Joe Hepp and Denny Kompare.

THE THEATRICAL VIRTUES of Patience and Prudence, as portrayed by Maureen Harbaugh and Catherine Cain, curtsy demurely in response to the applause for their rendition of the popular hit "Tonight You Belong to Me."

'56 Musical Hits

AFTER THE NURSING AND REHEARSING the moment finally arrives as Carol Pantano offers "Birth of the Blues" with the accompaniment of the Jazz Combo. This number was one of the many that were heard in the Mardi Gras scene.

WRITHING IN PAIN in typical Johnny Ray fashion as he pantomimes the hit tune "Walking in the Rain" is the well-dressed Tony Godino. Assisting as stylists in this rendition are John Sable, John Colcombe, and Richard Scott.

Through Parody and Pantomime

PRINCE CHARMING in the person of John Colcombe serenades his Snow White. Gathered 'round the revered guitar are J. Sable, K. Klingensmith, E. Caspero, A. Aquaviva, C. Cain, T. Godino, L. Wagner and C. Jessen.

"OLEY!" shouts the gaily attired Charley Jessen as he whirls his partner, Kitty O'Malley, to the tune of a Spanish Mambo. This dance was one of a series making up the love scene of the musical presentation.

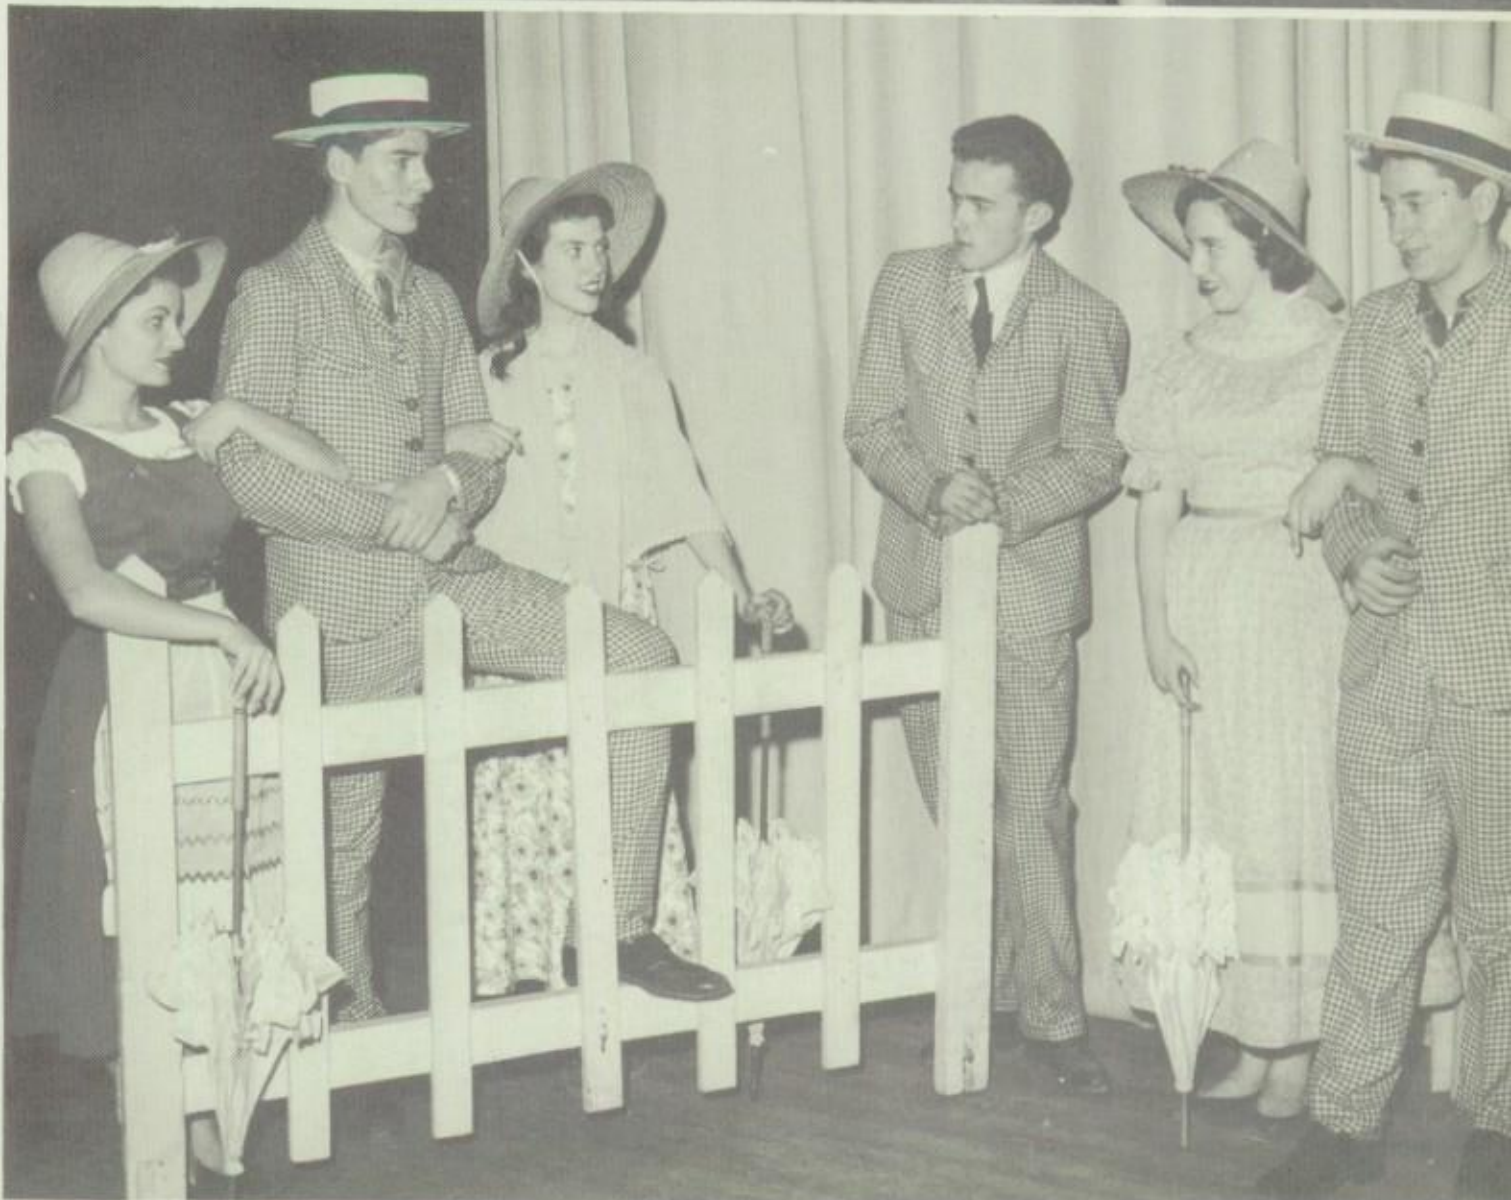

NANCY LEE GARVER, Director of Choreography for Musicales and Operetta.

REVELLING ROYALTY renounce their affiliations with the evil spirits as they sing the rousing "Clap Your Hands." In the roles of the King and Queen of the Mardi Gras are John Sable and Arlene Aquaviva.

TALL-TALE-TELLER John Colcombe recounts the story of the King who had a fancy for new clothes, one of the innumerable tales that made Hans Christian Anderson so loved by the children of long ago and by the audience of the review. His audience includes M. Harbaugh, E. Caspero, F. Klingensmith, A. Aquaviva (standing); R. O'Malley, R. Ekiert, R. Regal, L. Wagner, J. O'Brien, C. Pantano, J. Sable.

A SMALL TOWN GATHERING is held by a few members of the cast of the Musical Review as they depict a scene from the early life of Jimmy Dean, who was played without need of make-up by Richard Scott. Included in the get-together are C. Pantano, L. Wagner, A. Aquaviva, M. Klingensmith and R. Regal.

Men of Note on

TERRIFIC TROMBONE is the ideal of senior Dave Boslett, Central's own Tommy Dorsey. Although Dave is an active member of the band, orchestra, and Blue Knights, he is best known by his outstanding performance in the Dixieland number of the '56 Musical Review.

Dress Parade

JOE HEPP, Central's outstanding trumpet player, demonstrates his unique style. Joe can boast of four-year membership in the Band in which he has played first trumpet. Besides working with the Orchestra and Blue Knights, he has his own combo, the Knights of Rhythm.

THE 1956-57 EDITION of the Central Catholic Band, decked in their uniforms, a heritage from the Men's Club two years ago, represent an activity that has enjoyed progressive improvement. Front row: H. McGinn, J. DiFrancesco, J. Ferante, R. Sowa, R. Constabile, L. Kuba, P. Ianadi, J. Hepp, E. Albertson, E. Onofre, M. Fahey. Second row: Ricci, J. Logan, J. Santorilla, E. Delaney, W. Hawley, C. VERSATILE LEADER of the Blue Knights is Vince Sortino, of 4SC, whose specialty is the alto sax. His performances as a standout musician have been widely acclaimed at Central with the appearances of the Band and Blue Knights. In addition to his musical activities at school, Vince is often heard with small dance bands throughout the district.

JIM FERRANTE, senior musicmaker, is the top man on sax and clarinet in the Band, Orchestra and Blue Knights. Adding to these musical activities, this year Jim has played with several dance bands around the area and in the '56 Musicale Dixieland Scene.

WATER COLORS provide the main topic of the artists as they discuss the quality of the paintings which are part of a number of compositions which will be submitted to the Scholastic Art Contest. Pictured here is the Art Club, they are: (l to r) J. Cirelli, C. O'Connor, D. Lesick, R. Shurtz, L. Romito, D. DiPietro, J. Staley, A. Proviano, L. DiPietro, and J. Devere.

PLASTER CASTS of free forms in sculpture captivate the interest of junior artists R. Wingerson, A. Churik, C. O'Connor, and D. Lesick who are studying the qualities of the figures in order to perfect their work. These figures are also used by Brother Jerome for instructing new members of the Art Club.

"TRANSITORY WORLDS" by Abe Weiner, a Pittsburgh professional artist, unwittingly submits itself to the scrutiny of sophomores Francis Kress and Roger Vilsack. Through the Pittsburgh Plan for Art, professional work such as this has been available to public and parochial schools throughout the school year.

DA VINCI'S IN THE ROUGH are A. Churik, F. Verri, C. Paterson, R. McKeown, A. Venglish and R. Wingerson, who diligently attempt to perfect their creations. The clay forms will later be baked for use in a nativity scene.

The Official Voice

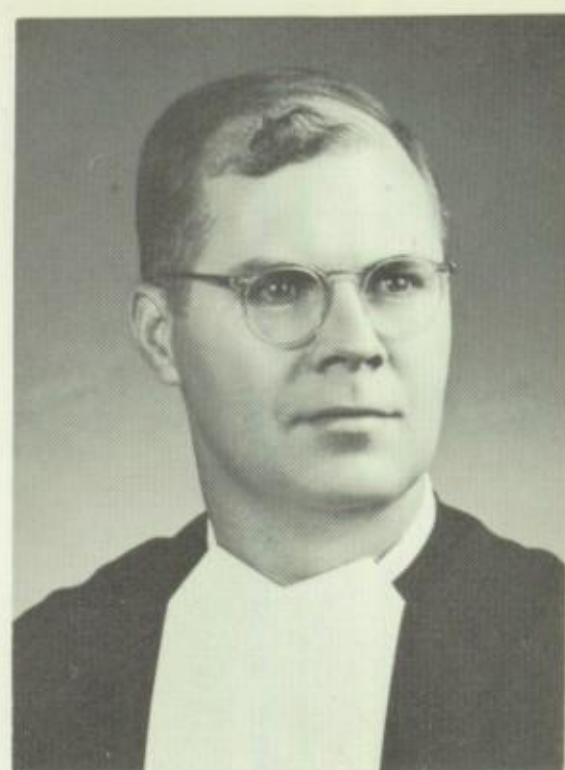

DECLAMATION is the forte of this group of the Speech Club. As R. Dickonson gesticulates, J. Murray, M. Cozza (seated), J. Carey, and L. Bucki await their opportunity to offer criticisms of the performance. Senior Bucki placed as winner this year in the diocesan "Cream of the Crop" tournament in declamation.

DRAMA AND HUMOR recitations were ably presented this year by this underclass trio: L. Modzelewski, D. McMunn, and H. Galliot.

WINNERS of the intra-school oratorical contest, sponsored by the school forensics group in the fall, gather with moderator Brother Richard before their meeting the Principal. In the usual order are Tony Godino, senior who placed first with his recitation of Poe's "Tell-Tale Heart," Brother Richard, Dave Mc Munn, James Dean, Bill Fay, and Nick Patricca.

LEONARD BUCKI: Outstanding member of Speech Club; obtained first place in diocesan competition in Declamation Cream of the Crop tournaments throughout the year.

THE DEBATING TEAMS, "A" and "B", performed regularly on scores on Sunday afternoons. This year the topic "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the basic principles of the Brannan plan" was handled by the "A" team (seated): P. Carnahan, G. McGurl, D. Clement, J. Dean; and the "B" team: N. Patricca, J. Murray, Brother Richard, Moderator, R. Dickinson, and D. McMunn.

We Come Full Circle as

VINCENTIANS and members of the St. John Vianney Society gather in the Brothers' Chapel to pray for vocations before one of their regular meetings. Father Ferris Guay, Vocational Director for the diocese, or one of his representatives has regularly given spiritual conferences to the members of these groups.

ST. BARNABAS, a Slovak parish in Swissvale, represents one of the more distant parishes within the Central area. Father John Martin cares for the spiritual needs of the parish while Vincentian Sisters of Charity instruct the parochial school.

SPARKING with ideas to promote the love of God and neighbor in a practical and practicing way around the school is Brother Dominic Maurice, Director of the School religious activities. Behind-the-scene workers Robert Sowa, Edward Schleicher, and John McMahon check with Brother on religious posters to be distributed to individual classrooms.

Parish and School Activities Unite

WEEKLY and unobtrusively members of the Knights of the Divine Child keep the holy water supply replenished in each classroom. Here Leonard Shockling fills one of the many fonts he has cared for on his own time.

THE BENILDE CLUB, organized to guide and direct boys interested in a vocation to the priesthood or the religious life, is possibly the most necessary activity in the school. Members include seated: J. O'Brien, B. DiNardo, R. Glackin, L. Schockling, J. McMahon, C. Zimmick; standing: R. Bleicher, W. Sproul, D. Garger, N. Patricca, R. Dickinson, R. Kearns, R. Something New Has Been Added: BIOLOGY CLUB

AS TOM CERMINARA drops the day's feeding into one of the aquaria in the biology laboratory, fellow members of the Biology Club gather round to watch the underwater stampede toward the fishfood. In the usual order are Gerald Brandt, Lou Criscella, Russell Gangloff, and Albert Herman.

OFFICERS of the newly formed Biology Club with their moderator Brother E. Richard form the vanguard of underclass scientists. Through the interest of Brother Richard and the enthusiasm of these officers, James Susany, James Berkey, Robert Cooper, and John Dean, the Club was organized this year to introduce future scientists into many of the intricacies of the sciences that cannot be taught in regular class time.

THE HUMAN EAR exposed in magnified form engages the interest of these members of the biology Club: Leonard Young, Edward Barvick, Paul Leech, Joseph Wells, Louis Romito, Ralph Neusch, John Nugent and Eugene Pilardi.

UNDERCLASS stagehands, organized this year by Brother John, principal, spend their activities' period preparing the school stage for the many activities that an ordinary school week entails: assemblies, adult education, Holy Name Society, Parents' Club. EDITOR Marty Moran, ever generous and willing to sacrifice his time and talents for the good of the school, performed the main portion of the student art work associated with the yearbook production.

UNDERCLASSMEN Tom Massaro and Dick Deasy contributed to much of the seniors' book this year by their caption writing and by their painstaking checking of the innumerable details associated with identifying all pictures that appear in this book.

"SHOULD HE REALLY BE UP THERE?" question Associate Editors John Dunn, Joe Hepp, and Bill Davies as they adjust David Hartner's picture to the "Wall of Fame" in the Publications' Office. MAIN CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS for the sales this year, as usual, was the display in front of the bookstore. All official propaganda space was utilized this year to barrage the school with yearbook advertisements. The result: sales hovered around the 1,500 mark. Pictured here are John Dunn, Cathedral's Mary J. Powell and Barbara Woll, Joe Hepp, John Dauer, Bill Davies, Den Heiry, Dick Deasy, Louis Grande, and Frank Klingensmith.

SEASON SUMMARY

Central Catholic	6	Duquesne	26
Central Catholic	20	McKeesport	27
Central Catholic	0	Uniontown	20
Central Catholic	7	Clairton	13
Central Catholic	12	Clark High	28
Central Catholic	7	Tarentum	13
Central Catholic	0	North Catholic	20

TAKING THE SNAP from center, is quarterback Den Trosky as halfback Jack Kirsch races to take the handoff. This scene was often duplicated during the days at camp as the backfield men spent many a long hour sharpening their timing for the season ahead.

PLOWING FORWARD as he attempts to bull for more yardage against North is Jack Kirsch. Charging to take out the linebacker in the event that Jack gets through the defensive lineman is Dick Hammer.

"HEADS" calls Jack Kirsch at the toss of the coin before the Viking-Trojan battle. The coin proved an omen of things to come, as it landed with the "tails" side up, thus predicting the 20-0 loss to the Northmen.

Viking Spirit Survives

CLEARING A PATH for the hard-running Jack Kirsch is Central halfback Bod Dogo, as he prepares to mow down the incoming Duquesne tackler. The Centralites fell in this, the opening game of the season, by the score of 25-6.

THE SEASON'S STORY is told in its entirety by the expressions on the faces of these Vikings as they trudge dejectedly off the field after dropping their seventh and final game of the season to the men from Troy Hill, by the score of 20-0.

Season of Setbacks

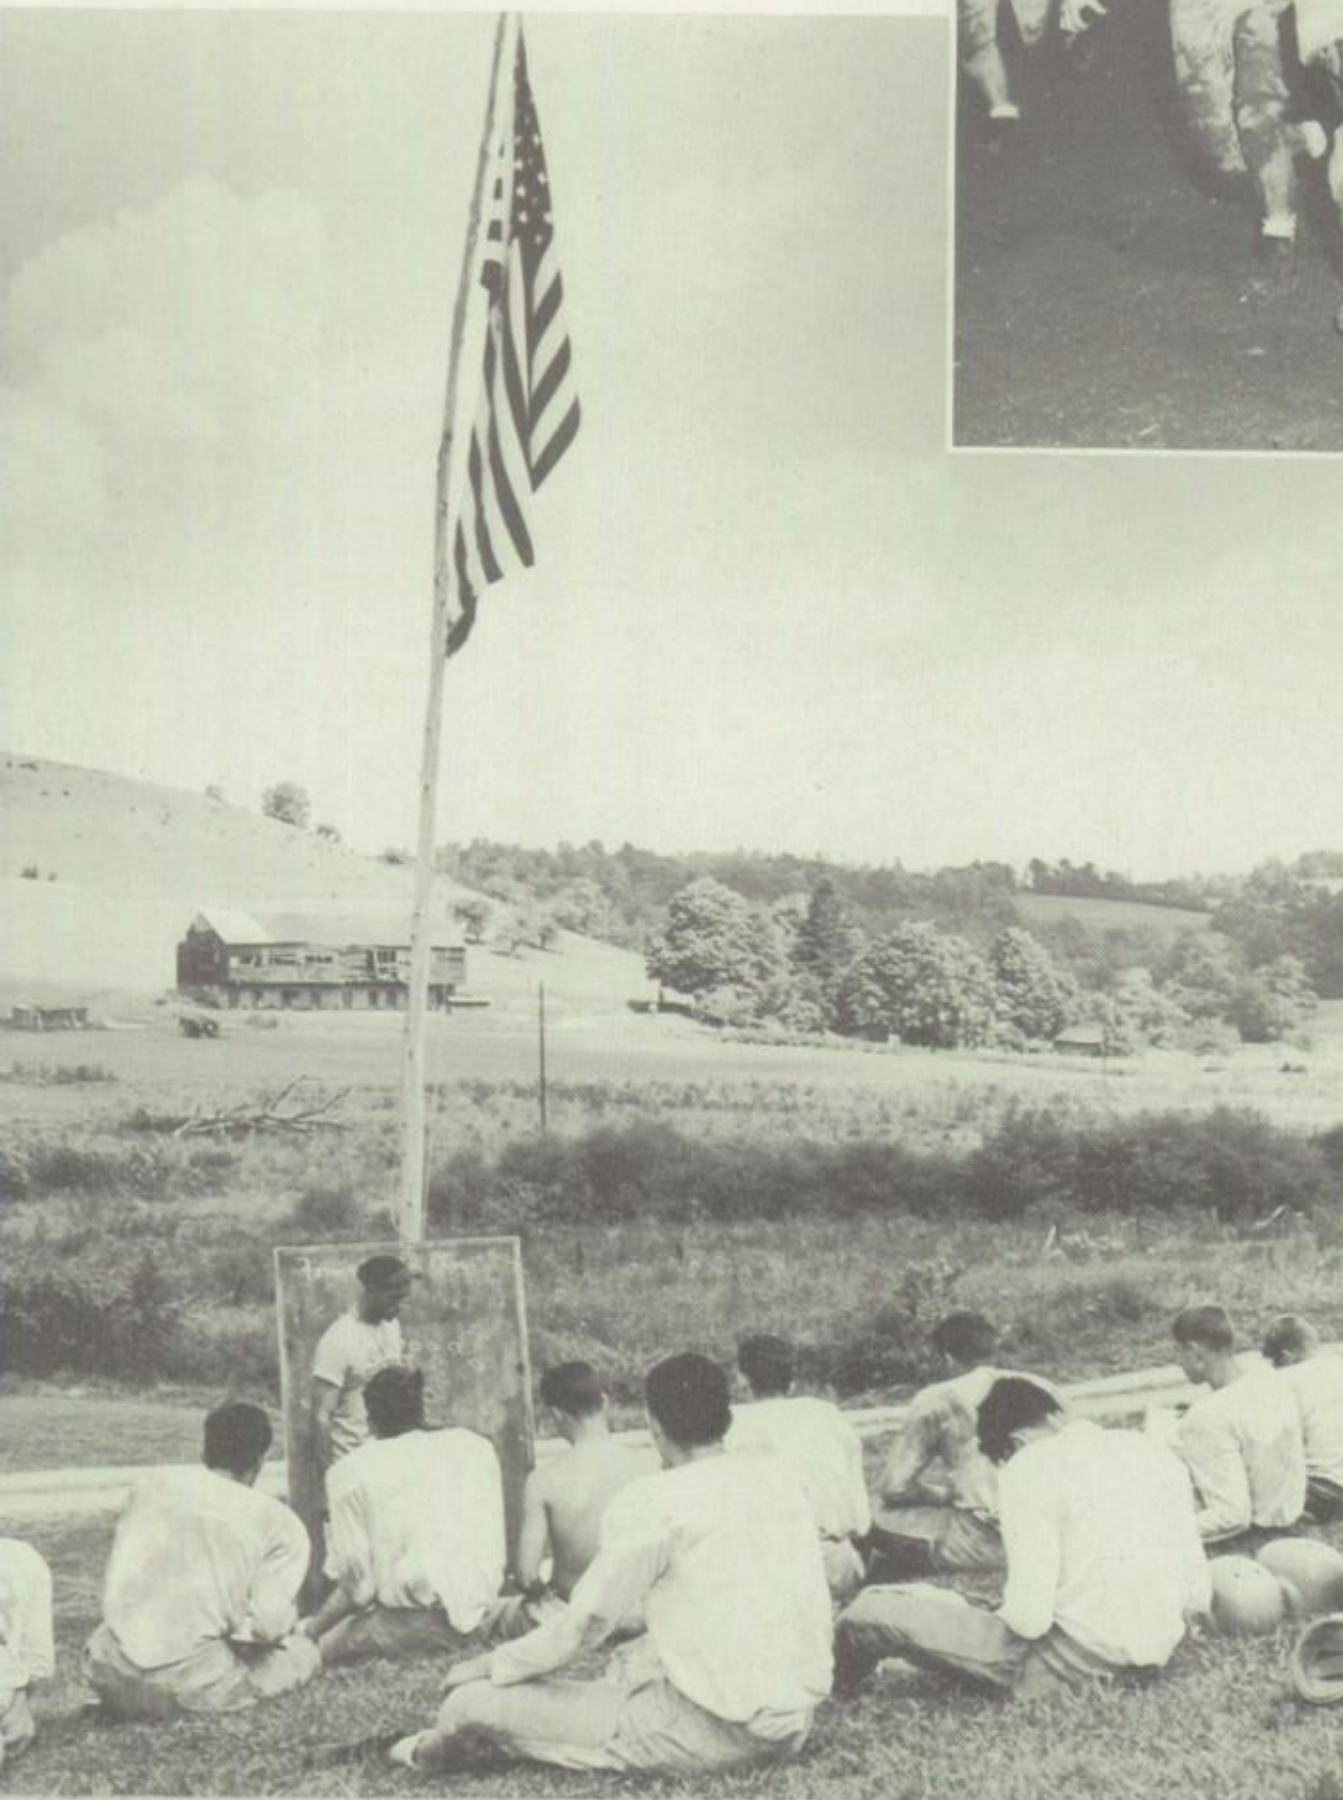

GRINDING TO A HALT in an attempt to evade the on-rushing Trojans is Tim McElroy. An outstanding back, Tim was one of the Viking's leading gridders this year.

DETERMINATION AND HOPE were the keywords of the entire squad during the training camp practices, as is mirrored in the faces of these members of the team. Shown participating in one of the gruelling sessions on the field of the Wilkensburg Boys Camp, near Somerset, Pa., are the aspirants for backfield positions and center Dick Hammer.

DRIVING ONWARD and taking an opponent's arm with him is half-back Jack Kirsch. A welcoming committee of Trojans moves to make the stop.

THE MASKED MARVEL of North attempts to gain some yardage against the Viking's defensive wall. Unfortunately for him, Stanish, Cosgrove, and Scott were there to make the stop.

WAVING PRECARIOUSLY on its rickety pole, "Old Glory" watches over one of the daily chalk talks that were an intricate part of the training camp life. Outlining an offensive maneuver to the squad, who copy the play into their ever-present notebooks, is Mr. Jansante.

LITTLE THINGS MEAN A LOT proves Vince Ornato as he grinds out more yardage for the Viking cause. Although one of the small Centralites, Vince was a constant threat to the opposition.

"HOLY COW, am I that fat?" queries Moose Sheffo as he gazes in disbelief at the tell-tale scale. Head Coach Val Jansante balances the instrument at the 200 plus mark as he adds one more victim to the "Fat Man's Table."

RACING FOR YARDAGE is quarterback Tim McElroy, as he goes around the end in an effort to outrace the Trojan defenders. The gains were few and far between as the Vikings suffered a 20-0 defeat at the hands of the Northmen.

A Never-Quit Exhibition

ALL EYES TURN to the action on the field during a key play at the Duquesne contest. Coach Joe Fay interrupts his advice to Rich Soltys to watch the happenings as Mr. Collins calls Tim McElroy's attention to some aspect of the maneuver.

SNEAK ATTACK is being used here by a Tarentum tackler as he darts in behind Jack Kirsch who appears on his way for a large gain as he follows his blockers.

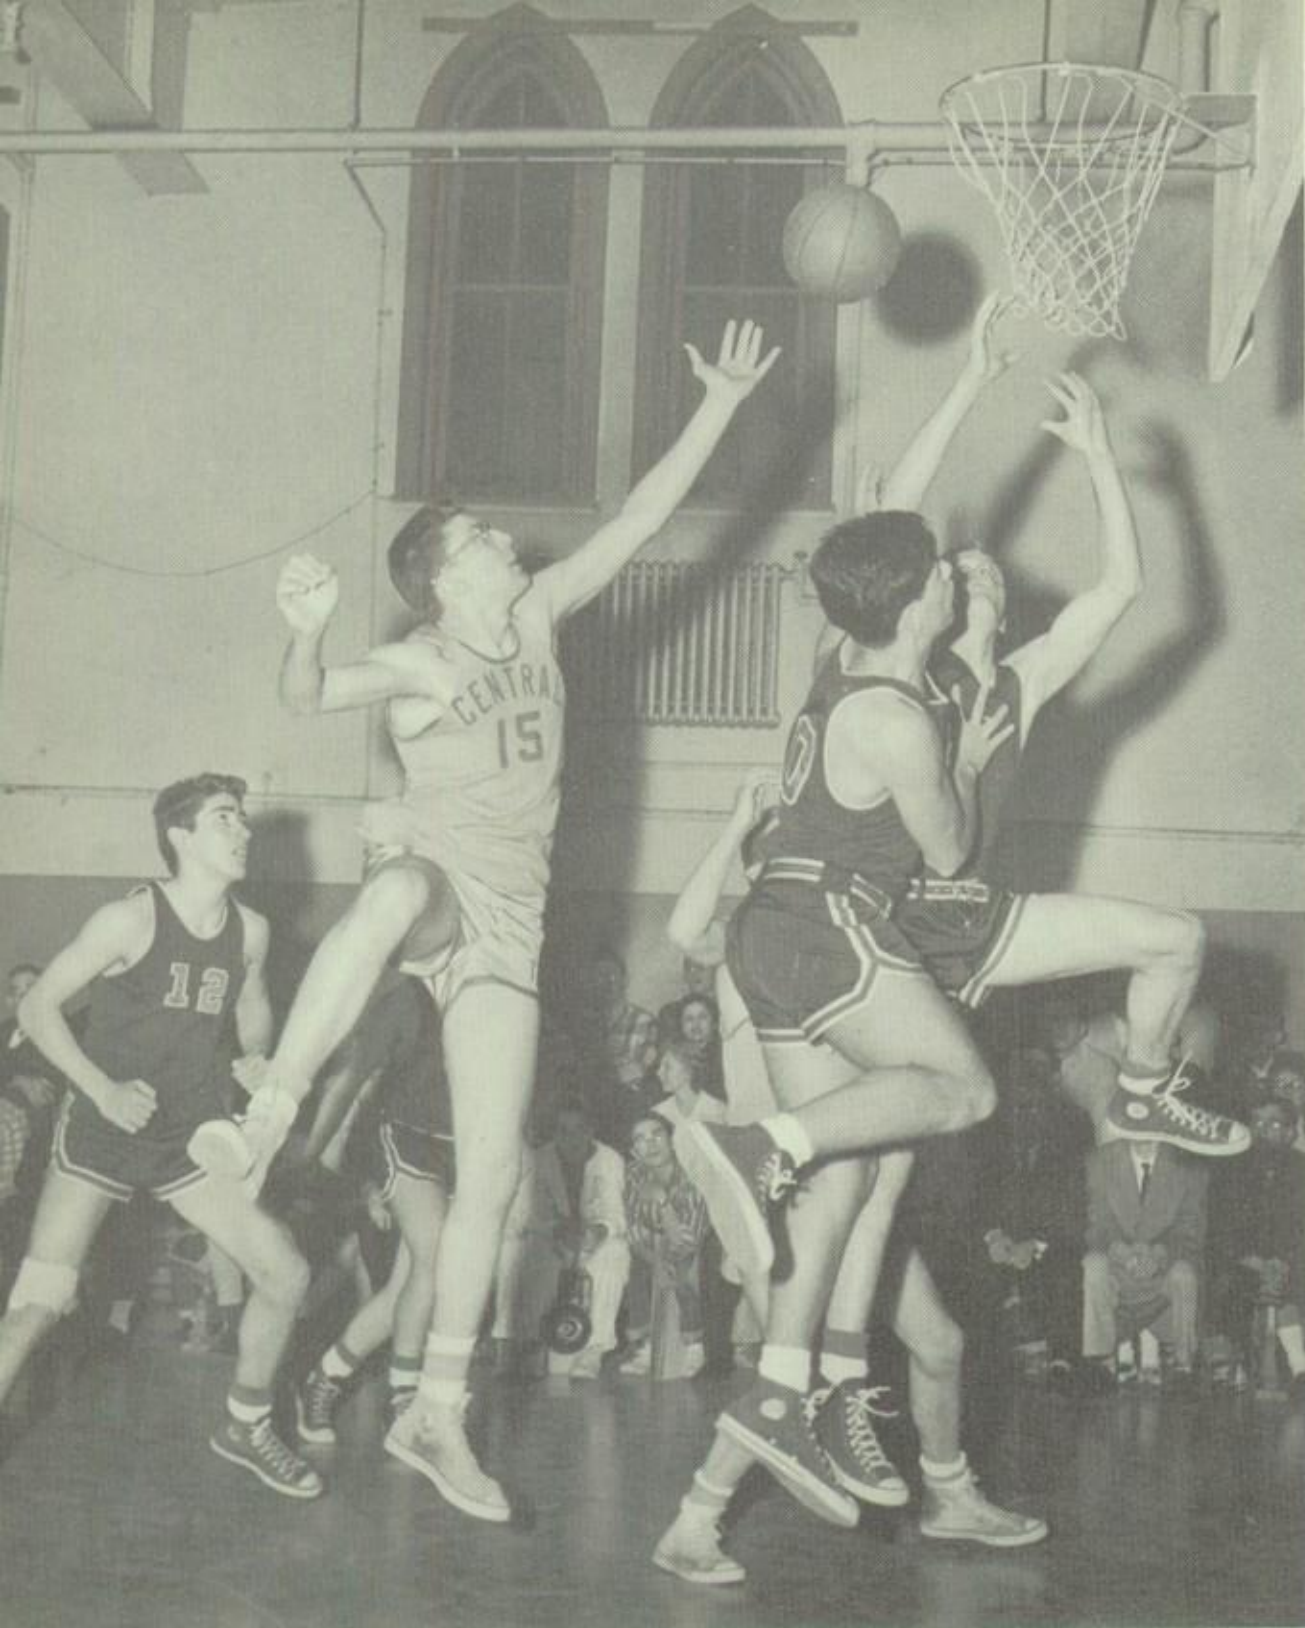

ALL, BALL, WHO'S GOT THE BALL? is the question on everyone's mind as the draw play works beautifully once again. This play repeatedly caught the interference off guard as is attested by the Tarentum tacklers, who hastily retraced their steps.

AWKWARDLY BUT EFFECTIVELY, George Patterson (15) leaps high into the air above the Glassport board men to snag another rebound for Central in the Glassport tussle which ended 80-43 for another Central victory. George has been an unequaled aid to the varsity both as a rebounder and a scorer.

THE FIRST NORTH GAME is the scene of this picture as Jack Fullen goes up in an attempt to block North's high scorer Matt Szykowny. Late in the third quarter the Trojans brought the score to a tie and then the Vikings again pulled ahead to win by a score of 61-53.

KITTANNING WEAVES the play to bring in the ball as Central sets up the defense and George Patterson (15) leaps for the pass as Jack Fullen (11) and Ray Masa (13) await the ball. The Kittanning quintet provided our final game and victory, rounding out the successful 18-4 season.

JIM MILLER'S attempt to widen the Central margin by two points in the East Pittsburgh game is thwarted by a beautiful block made by an East Pittsburgh forward. Hoping for success but prepared for failure, George Patterson stands ready to do battle with four East Pittsburgh huskies.

OUT OF SIGHT but not out of mind as George Patterson reaches to pull down the tip off as Ray Masa (13) and Jack Fullen (11) race for Central's hoop. Plays like this helped Central defeat Kittanning, 46-23.

1956-57'S CITY A BASKETBALL CHAMPS congregate for the TOWERS' cameraman. They are, bottom row: B. Quinlan (mgr.), J. Fullen, J. Miller, R. Masa, C. Rutter, D. Trosky, C. Dees, and W. McCullough (mgr.). Back row: Mr. Joseph Penzelik (coach), R. Soltys, K. Wetmore, G. Patterson, P. Benec, R. Gordon, J. Foley, and Brother Fl. Bernard (moderator).

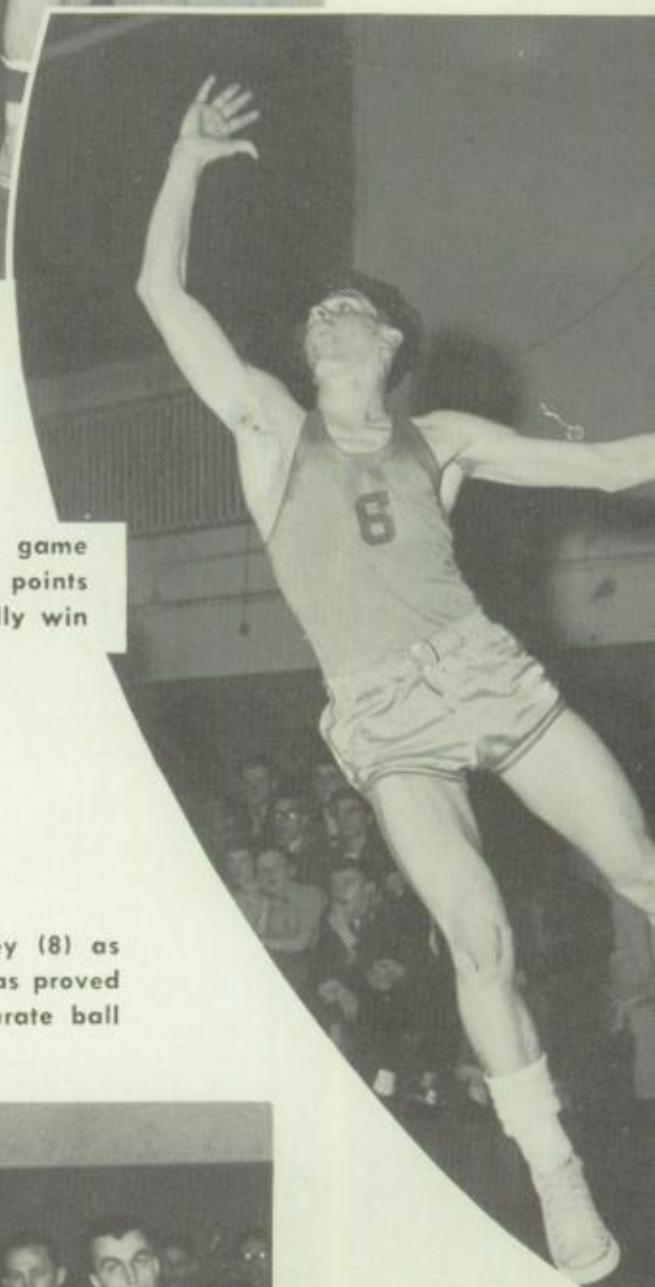

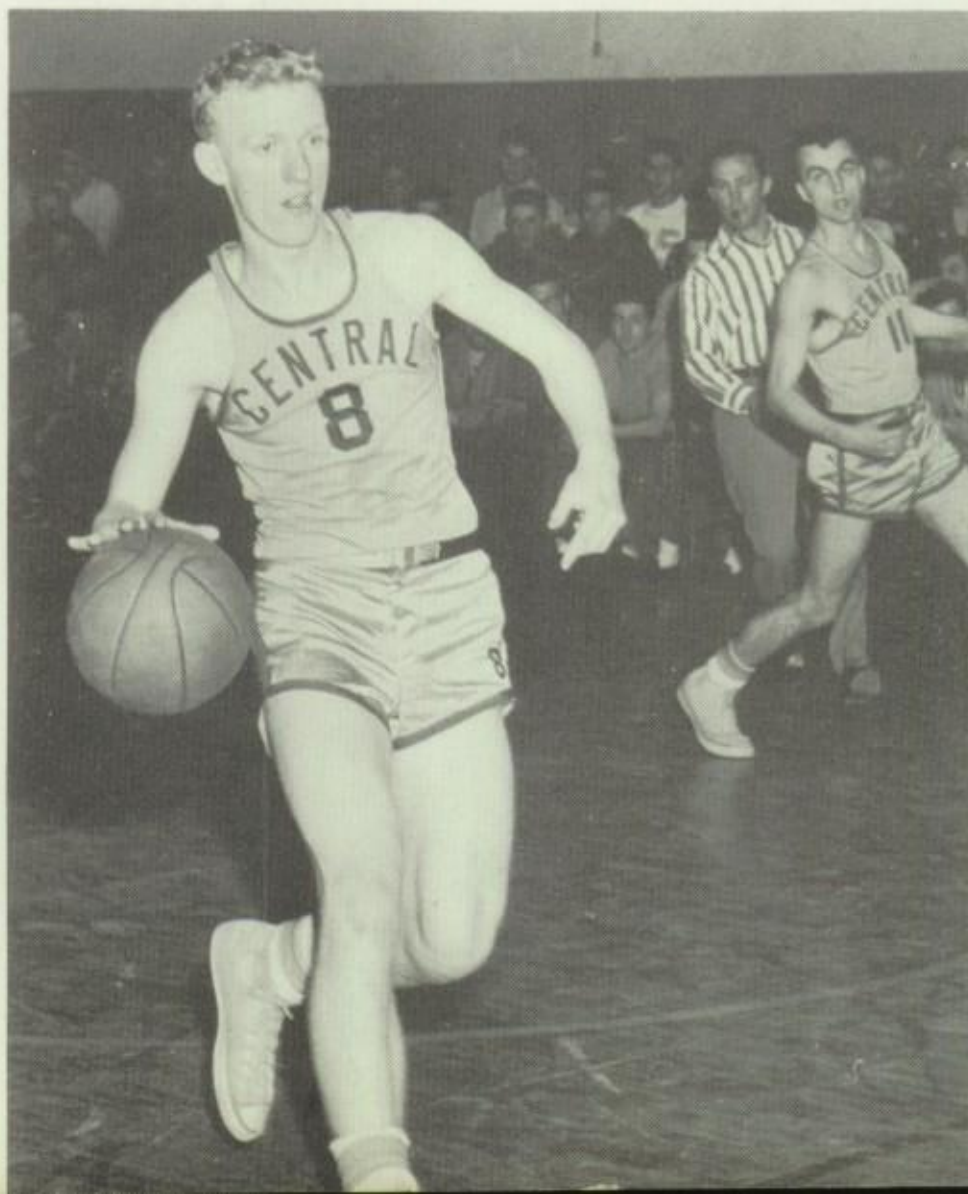

"DINK" LARKIN, ace JV hoopster, moves up to varsity during the North game to contribute his talents to the big Vikings. In this tussle "Dink" sank six points in the last minutes of the game which helped the Vikings tie and eventually win the game, 47-46.

As Courtiers Pass

JACK FULLEN makes good another foul shot with his usual accuracy. After greatly improving, Jack became a mainstay on the first string by consistently pouring in sets with the deadliness of a professional.

SPEED AND AGILITY are deftly united by Jim Foley (8) as he moves down-court in the Kittanning game. Jim has proved his position on the varsity with his swift and accurate ball handling plus his deadly shooting.

LEAPING BACK in an attempt to prevent fouling Paul Benec in his layup, is North's stellar hoopster Matt Sykowny (44). Ray Masa and North's await the outcome of the shot.

ADVANCING TOWARD THE CITY TITLE, Ray Masa puts in another two points against the Trojans of North. The second game of the series proved to be one of the hardest fought of the season as Central overcame a first half deficit to win the title by a score of 47-46 in overtime.

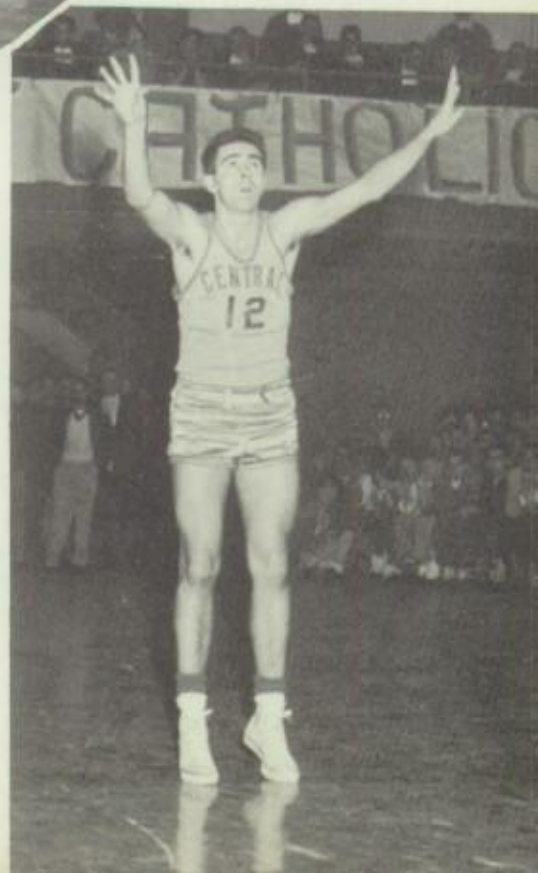

WITH A DETERMINED LOOK on his countenance Jack Fullen dribbles toward a Kittanning opponent in hopes of setting up another Central two points. Expectantly awaiting the outcome of this maneuver is Jim Foley and another Wildcat floorman.

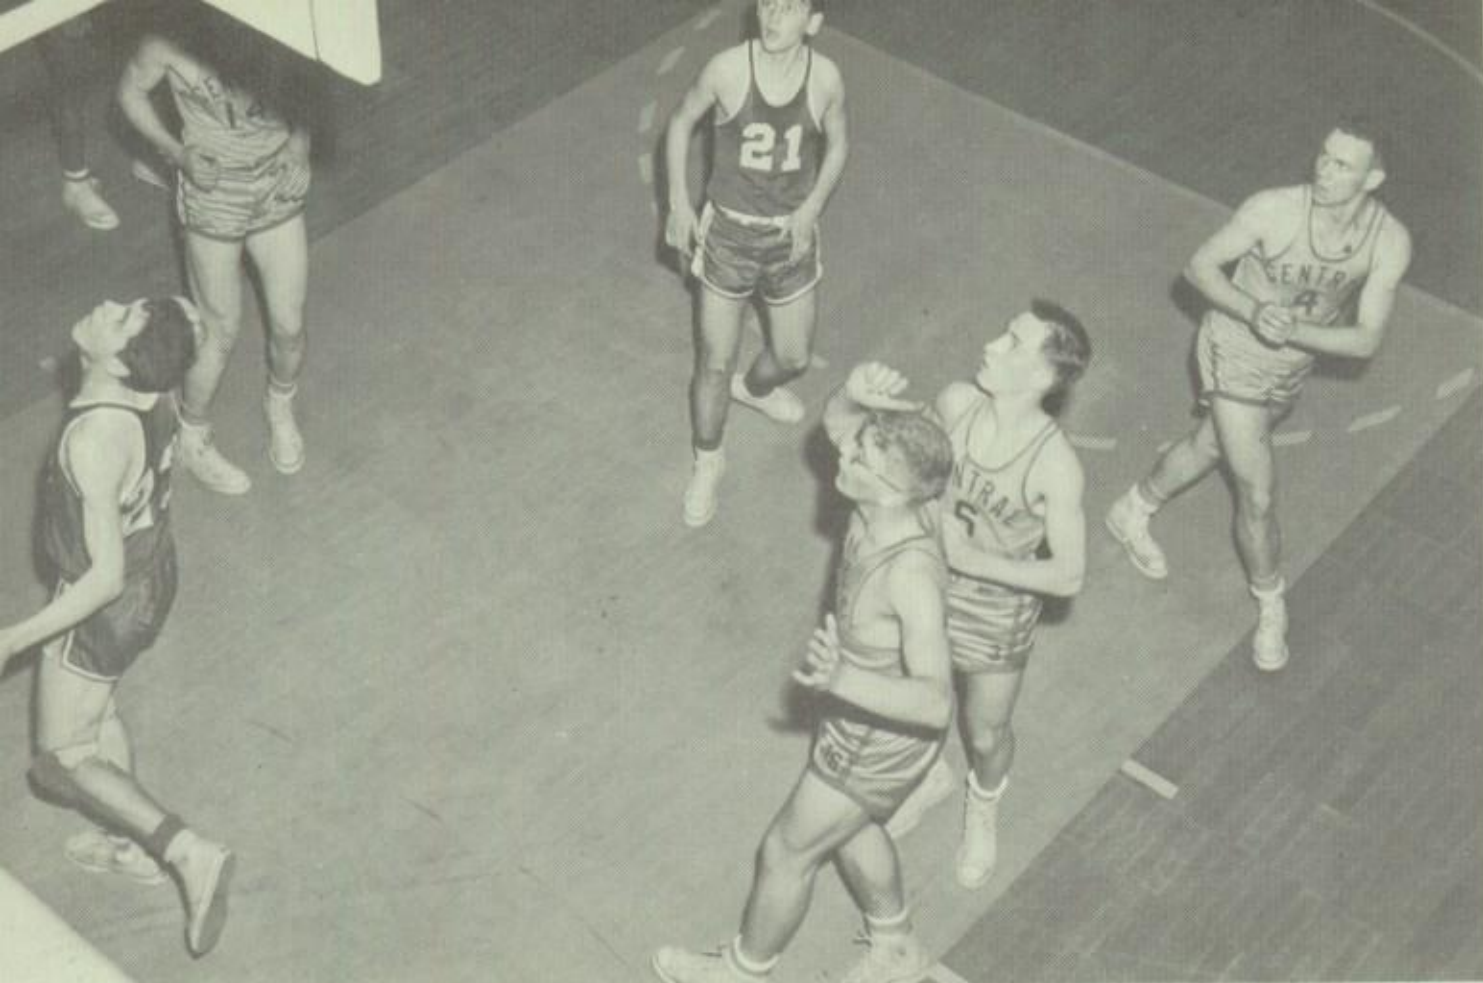

Toward PCIAA Title

PUTTING ON THE BRAKES suddenly when confronted by a surprised looking Kittanning hoopster, George Patterson prepares to pass off setting up another Viking two point play. Following George are Foley (8) and three Kittanning defenders.

SPREAD EAGLE, Jim Miller follows through one of his important foul shots in the West Catholic game. Ready to play for the rebound are Jack Fullen and two West defenders.

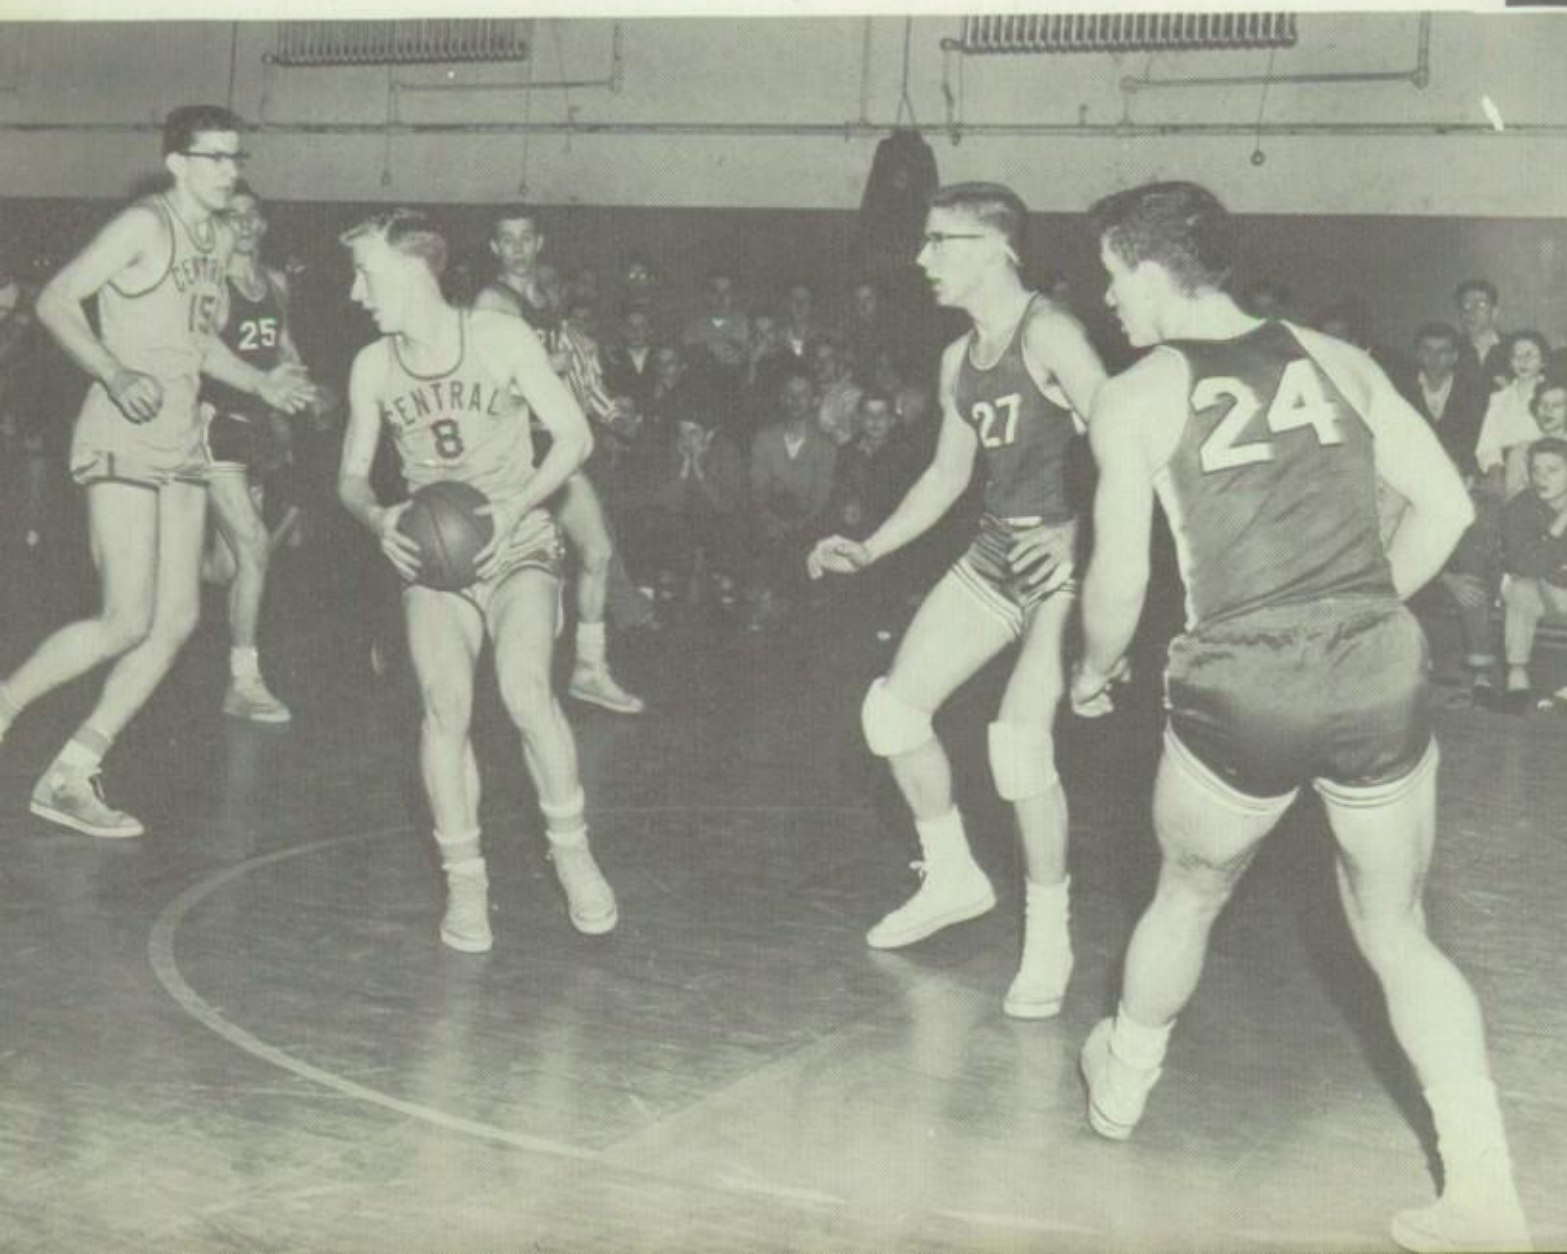

"EYES UP" is the order of the moment for the Vikings and East Pittsburghers as they wait for the tricky sphere to drop in or bound out. As to who took the shot, it's anybody's guess.

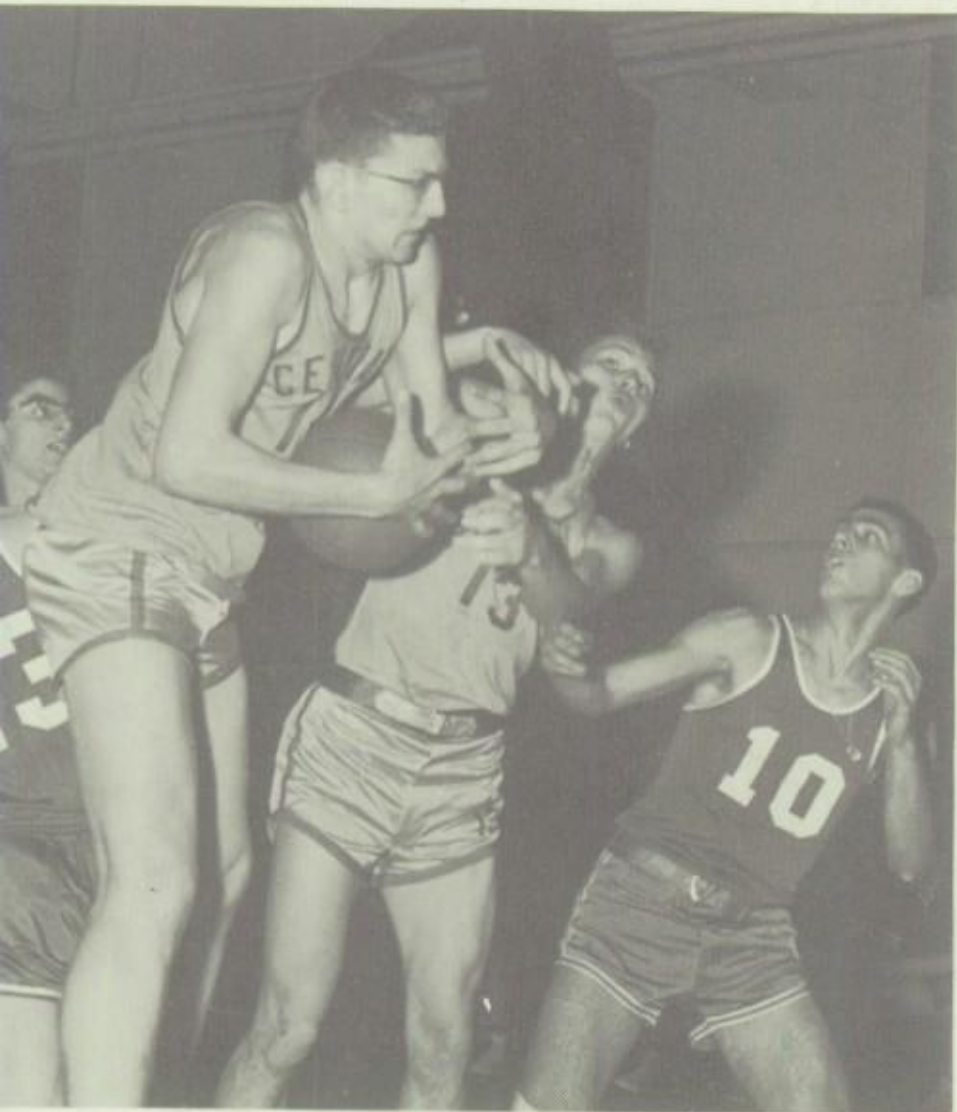

SEEMINGLY SUSPENDED in mid-air, Dennis Trosky follows his shot through and another two points are added to Central's score.

CAGER'S CONFAB—Jim Foley and George Patterson pause momentarily in the former's drive to the hoop to discuss more effective strategy. Waiting for the two Vikings to decide are four Kittanning hoopsters. The effective strategy used here led to another Central victory, 54-25.

Passing Their Way to Varsity Berths

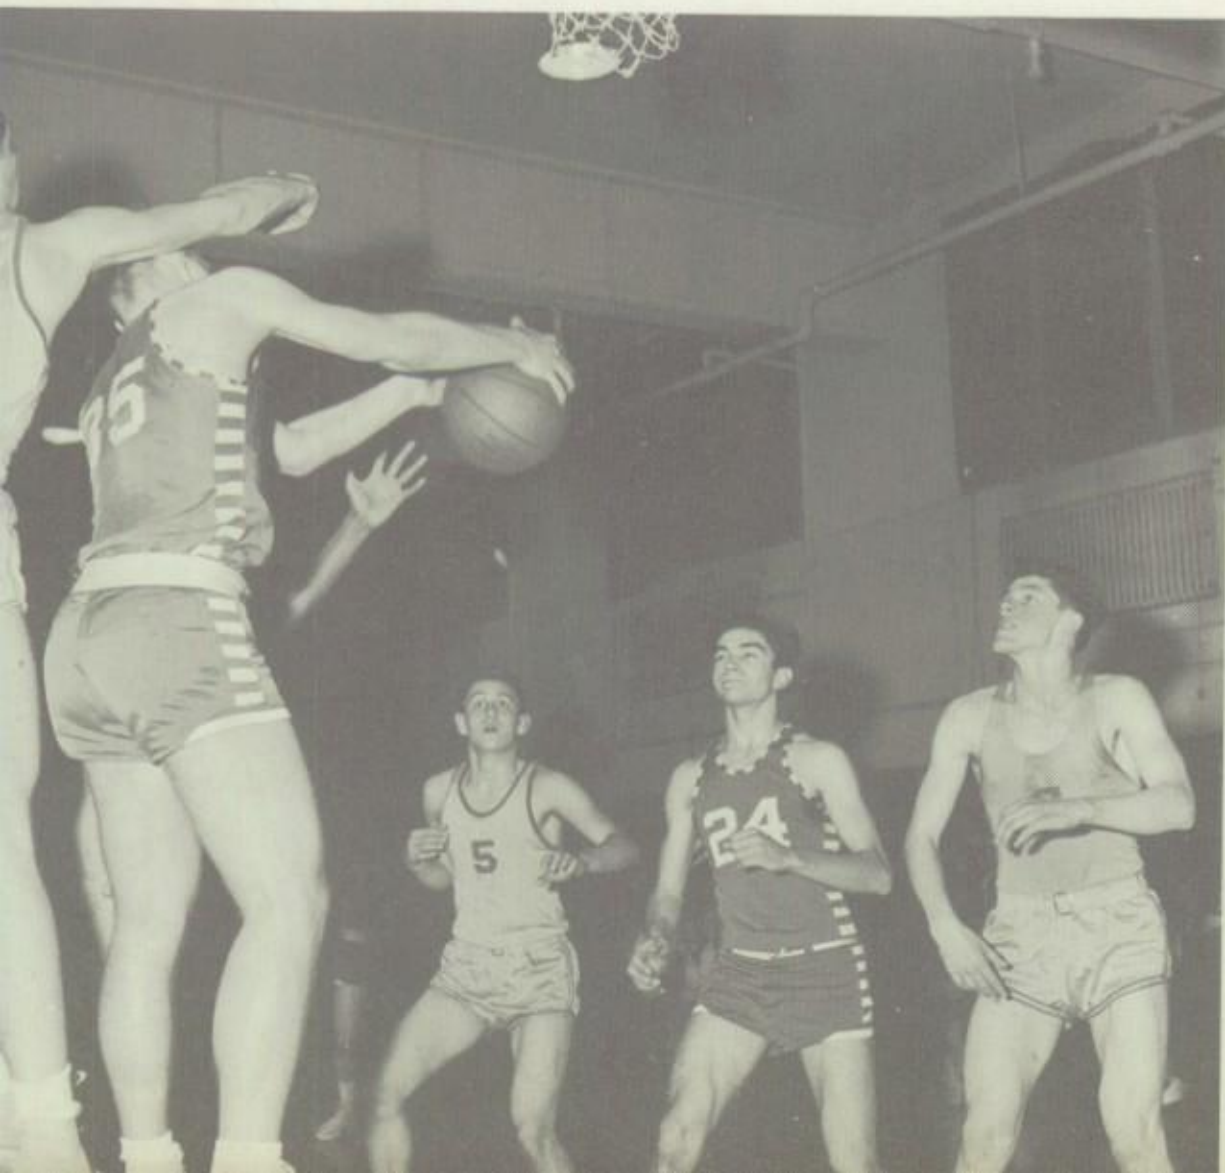

POSSESSION IS NINE-TENTHS of the law is the motto of George Patterson who grabs the ball for keeps from the hands of Ray Masa and East Pittsburgh rebounders. Despite the undying attempts of the East Pittsburghers, Central remained controlling the boards during the game resulting in another Central victory.

BATTLING UNDER THE BOARDS, Tom Maher attempts to overwhelm North Catholic's Turici (35) in his quest for the ball. Awaiting the outcome of the scrap are Ed Drozynski, John Larkin and an unidentified rojan.

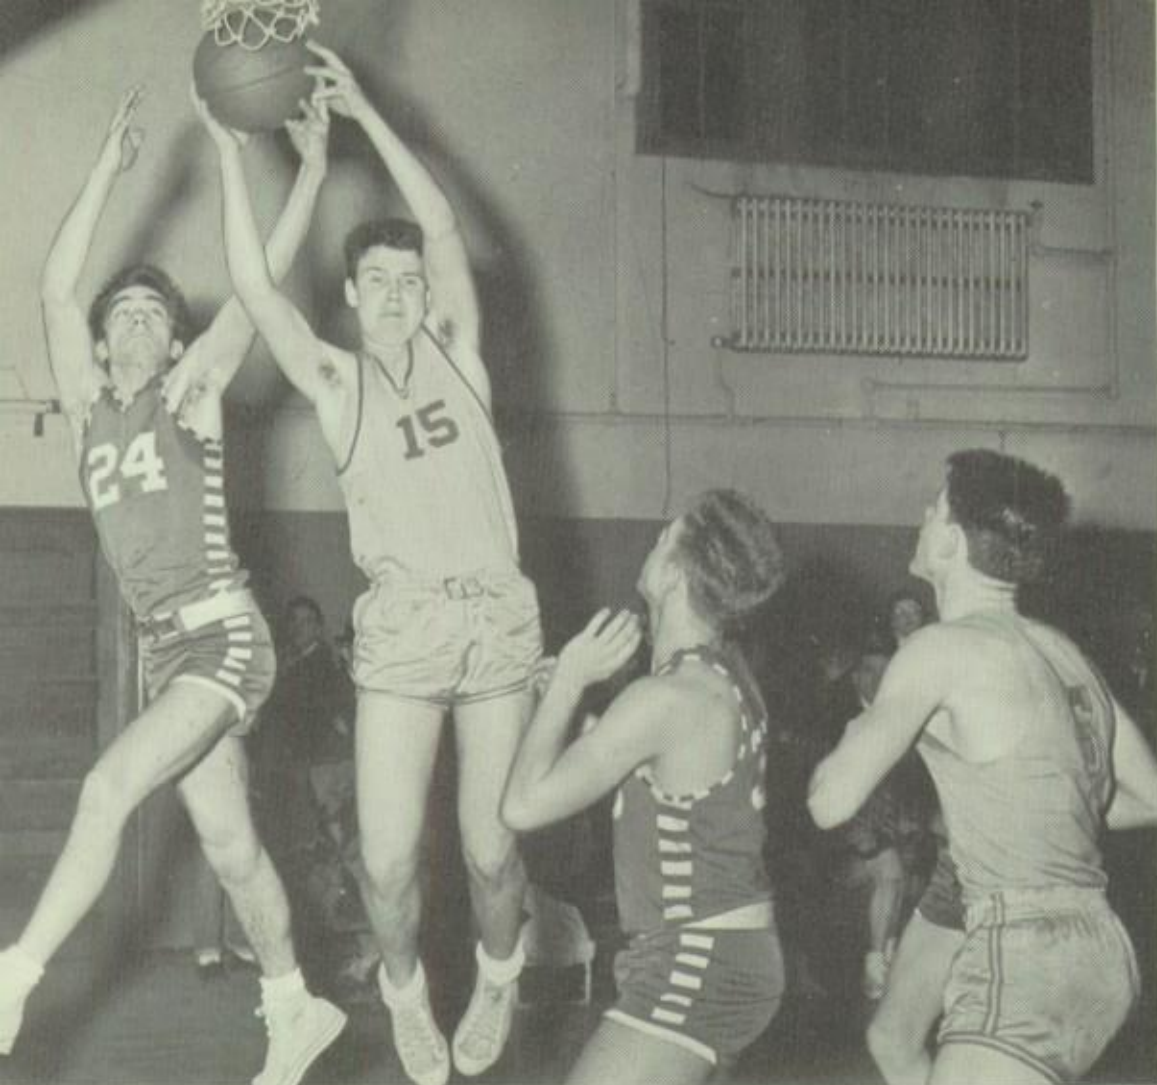

FAST PLAYING was the main reason for Central's consistent victories. Working through Kittanning's defense is George Patterson, passing to Paul Benec, and Jack Fullen, breaking for the hoop.

"WILL HE OR WON'T HE" is the question in the eyes of the combatants and spectators as to Jim Miller's ability to capture the descending ball. Jim's rebounding was instrumental in the team's victories.

LEAPING LIKE A GAZELLE, John Ruane fights for control of the ball under the boards in the JV's second meeting with the Trojans. Standing by to help out are Central's J. Larkin and the Trojans' Turici.

DRIVING FOR ANOTHER TWO is JV hoopster "Dink" Larkin in the little Vikings second win over their Trojan rivals. Attempting to stop the shot is Turici while Ruane waits in expectations for a rebound.

COMPILERS of an 18-2 record are these members of the '56-'57 edition of the Junior Varsity. They are: 1st row, W. McCullough (manager), Grgurich, W. Curtin, W. Donahue, E. Drozynski, and Quinlan (manager). 2nd row, Mr. Francis Collins (coach), Larkin, J. Ruane, T. Maher, Mitchell, and Brother Fl. Bernard (moderator).

"LEAVE GO OF IT" growls Ed Drozynski as he grapples with two North defenders in the second half of the home-and-home series, both of which were won by the Central hoop-ers.

RESEMBLING a former stellar Duquesne basketeer is John Mitchell as he drives for a lay-up. Awaiting the outcome are Ed Drozynski and four Trojan defenders.

The Central Diamond Scene

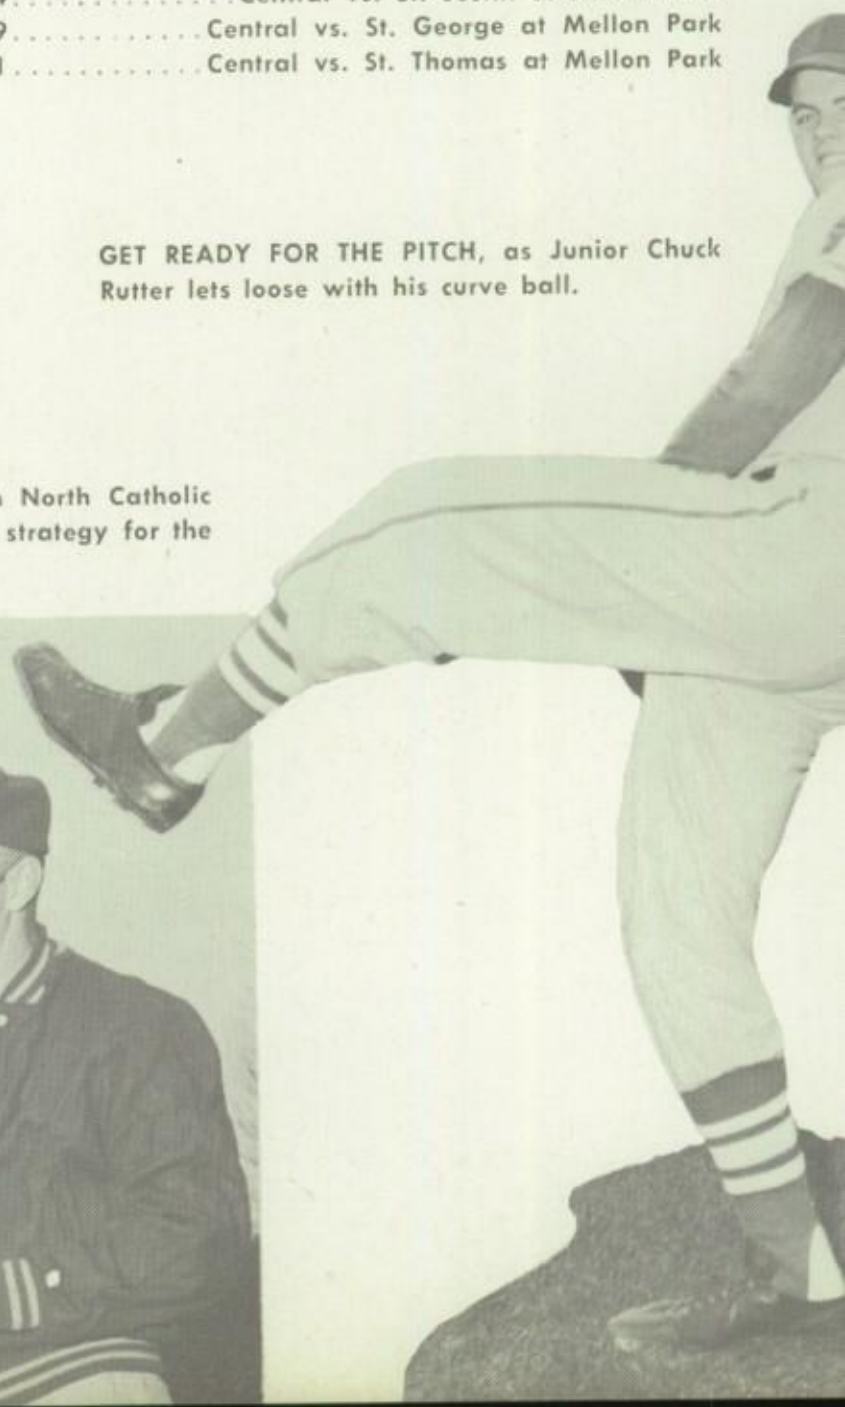

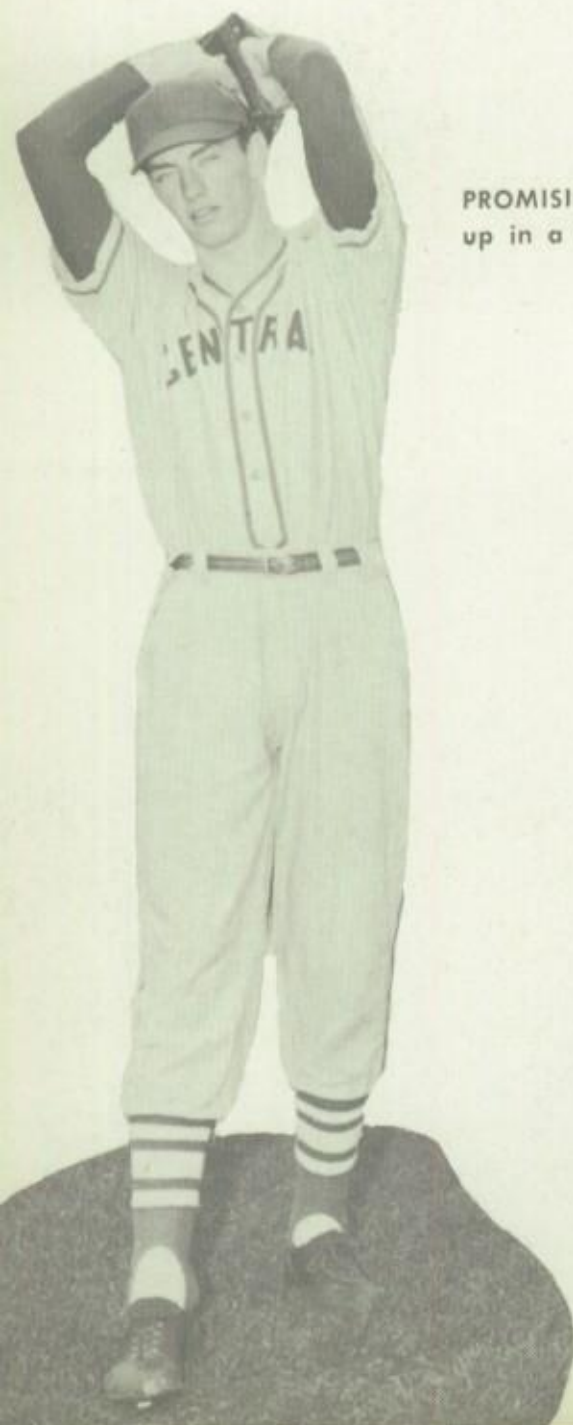

In the second year of the revised Central Catholic baseball season, the schedule of teams to be played includes two games with North Catholic, two with St. Joseph, Mt. Oliver, and two with St. Mary of the Mount. The official section schedule is as follows:

April 16	Central vs. St. George at Quarry Field
April 24	Central vs. St. Justin at Mellon Field
April 27	Central vs. St. Canice at McKinley Park
May 1	Central vs. St. Thomas at E. T. Thompson Field
May 3	Central vs. St. Canice at Mellon Field
May 10	Central vs. St. Wendelin at Mellon Field
May 12	Central vs. St. Wendelin at Phillips Park
May 24	Central vs. St. Justin at Moore Park
May 29	Central vs. St. George at Mellon Park
May 31	Central vs. St. Thomas at Mellon Park

PROMISING Junior hurler, Chuck Gordon winds up in a pre-season practice.

COACHES' Confab before the first game with North Catholic shows Mr. Conlin and Brother Kevin readying strategy for the top league rival.

WATCHING FOR the sign from catcher Jim Miller, Gene Chamboredon waits to deliver his pitch.

PEGGING TO second base for the double play, Bob Stiglich chalks up another victory in pre-season competition.

Hill and Dalers Rule

DEMONSTRATING THEIR WINNING STRIDE, we find the big six of the Varsity crossing the finish line. Again this year, Brother Emery's Hill-and-dalers have emerged with another undefeated season. Top men of the team are (l. to r.) P. Murphy, A. Mangieri, R. Sheehan, M. McAndrew, A. Zangrilli and J. Friday.

IT'S ANOTHER FIRST for Joe Friday. Here Brother F. John presents Joe with his award after his record-breaking time of 11:38 at the fourth annual Central Catholic Invitational Meet. Joe has continuously garnered first places during the '56 season.

SENIOR HARRIER Pat Murphy runs with the experienced form of a Varsity member. Pat has placed in the top five since his sophomore year and has been a great asset to the team.

the Keystone Courses

AND THEY'RE OFF in a state of confusion, but out of this melee will emerge another of Central's victories. This year's team has carried on the winning tradition started by their predecessors.

SEEMINGLY LOST are J. Foley and C. Conway as they start the final quarter mile with their effortless stride. From the Westinghouse Pond to the finish has often meant the difference between defeat or victory.

AL ZANGRILLI, one of the top men on this year's Cross Country Team, proves his mettle as he finishes high in the standings of the Central Catholic Invitational. In the past two years, Al has contributed heavily to his team's victories.

STRAINING FOR HIS BEST TIME Joe Friday puts forth his greatest effort at the climax of the mile run. Continually placing high in the standings Joe has cut his time down to 4:31.9.

WITH SPEED AND COORDINATION gained through long hours of practice, Jack Dowds makes a flawless pass to Don Adams. Here they show their expert form in the 880 relay where they have consistently outplaced their opponents.

POISED AND TENSE are (l. to r.) Don Adams, Lou Bucci, A. Ejzak, and Jack Dowds as they wait for the crack of the starter's gun. They are shown here vying for position on the traveling varsity squad.

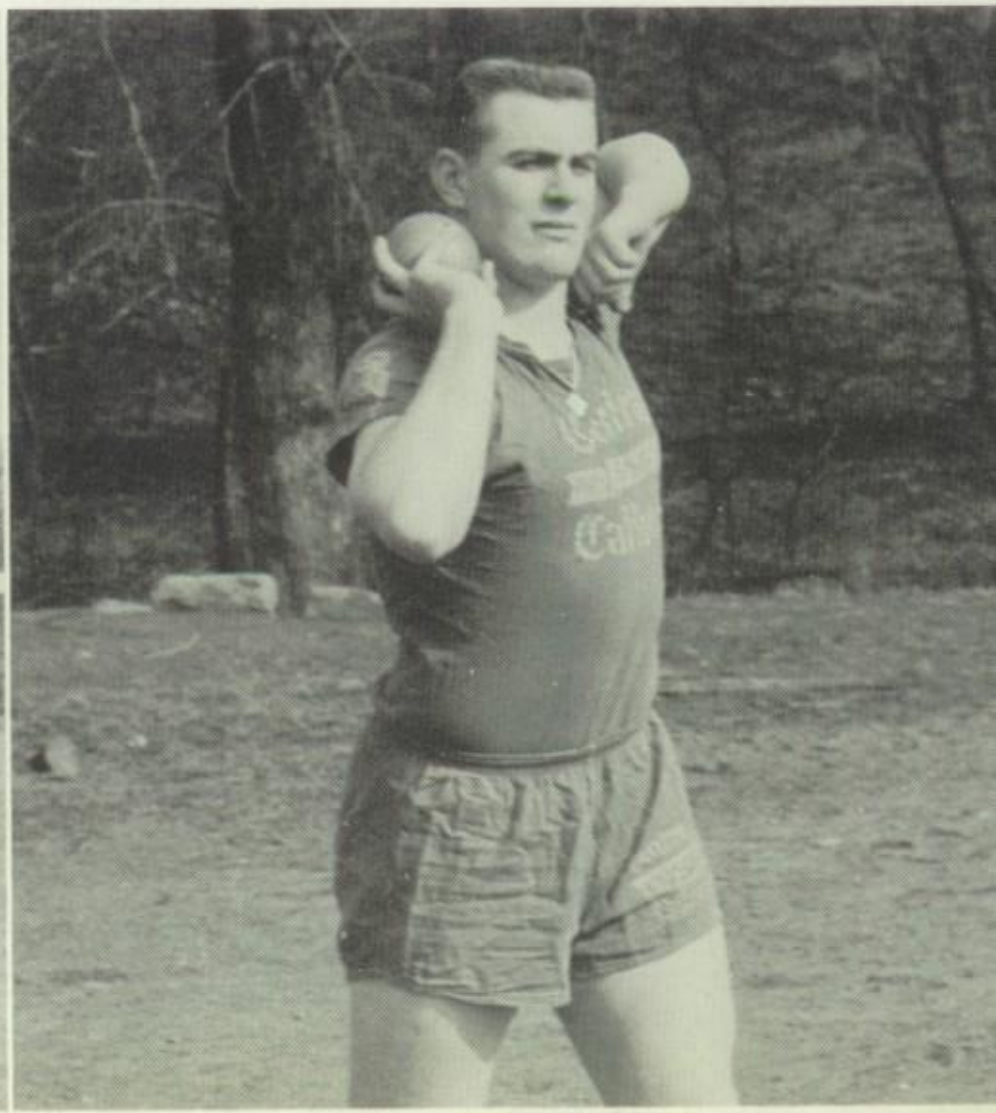

WITH DETERMINATION, Emil Bonavita winds up in an attempt to excel the school record in the discus. Emil, a member of the varsity football team, keeps in shape for the fall season by working out with the track team.

Trackmen Continue to Multiply

WITH HIS FROG-LIKE KICK, Jim Foley clears the bar with the expert form of an experienced jumper. Jim has been a mainstay of the Track Team since his sophomore year and has been a constant threat to all opposition.

DON SHEFFO, stellar weight man of this year's track team, unleashes another of his mighty heaves. This year, he has hopes of bettering the standing school record of 50'2".

POWER, BALANCE, AND TIMING, mark Joe Friday's effort as he clears the bar in the Westinghouse Meet at Schenley Oval. Besides being an outstanding distance runner, Joe has also contributed his talents to the field events.

AL EJZAK hits the sawdust at the 18 foot mark. Al has shown tremendous potentiality in the broad jump, and hopes to hit the 20 foot mark.

SIGHTING-IN their rifles in preparation for the very brief deer-hunting season, these members of the Hunting Club under the tutelage of Brother Claude brave a cold November day at the Northside Sportsman Association Club near Warrendale. Other sights of the Hunting Club's pursuits of deer and fowl this year have included Ligonier, Brookville, Warren, and, for trap-shooting, the McKeesport's Sportman's Range.

Hunting We Have Gone - - -

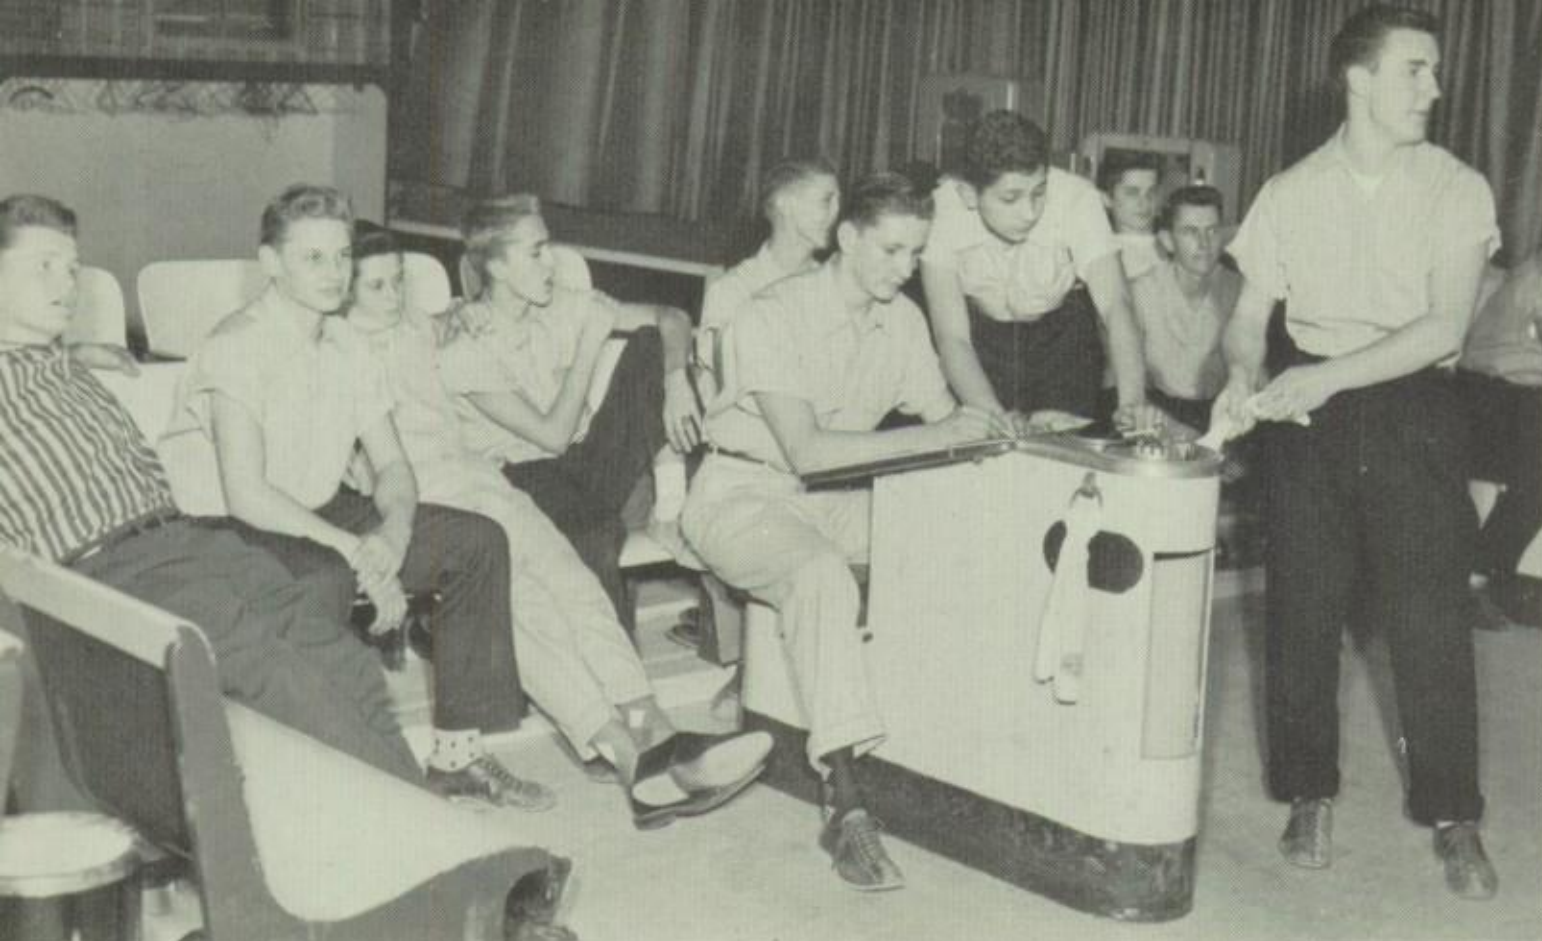

AT THE TABLES, signing-in for the deer-hunting season amid the Pennsylvania mountains only nineteen miles from Pittsburgh are Mark Panny, Martin Berdik, Emil Bonavita and Steve Riley. Watching the sharp-shooters are brothers Claude and Maurice and Joe Rocereta and Joe Di Francesco.

LOCAL WOODSMEN, posing with the modern equipment of the disciple of St. Hubert, are (first row) John Conley, Emil Bonavita, Rich Ilkovich, Robert Holeczy, John Pison. Second row: Henry Carr, John Colcombe, Lawrence Di, Anthony Santoro, William McHugh, David Palma and Brother Claude. Third row: Mark Panny, Herman Dobscha, Joe Di Francesco, Paul Wolf and Robert Wreath.

STEPPING UP to the line to try for another strike, Jim Griffin looks down to make sure that the duck pins have been set up again after Frank Ambrose's strike. As Den Monahan, Tim Kozlowski, Don Mitsch, and Bob DeHart await their turn on the alleys, Joe Barczak tabulates the score.

On the Central Strike Scene

JUNIOR FRANCIS FUNA, Captain of the Central Team #2, shows his winning form as he opens up a Tuesday afternoon practice session at University Alleys. Both Teams #1 and #2 have been neck and neck with North Catholic's team this year for honors of league leaders.

CENTRAL TEAM #1, who briefed our write-up man with the statistics of their double victory in three tries over North Catholic, have maintained scores in the duck pin league that have ranged from 130 to 140. Kneeling: Karl Hils, Joe Frieland, Jon Quinlisk, Bob Griffin; standing: Brother Claude, Moderator, Fred Bence, John Roller, Ray Marlinga, John Burger.

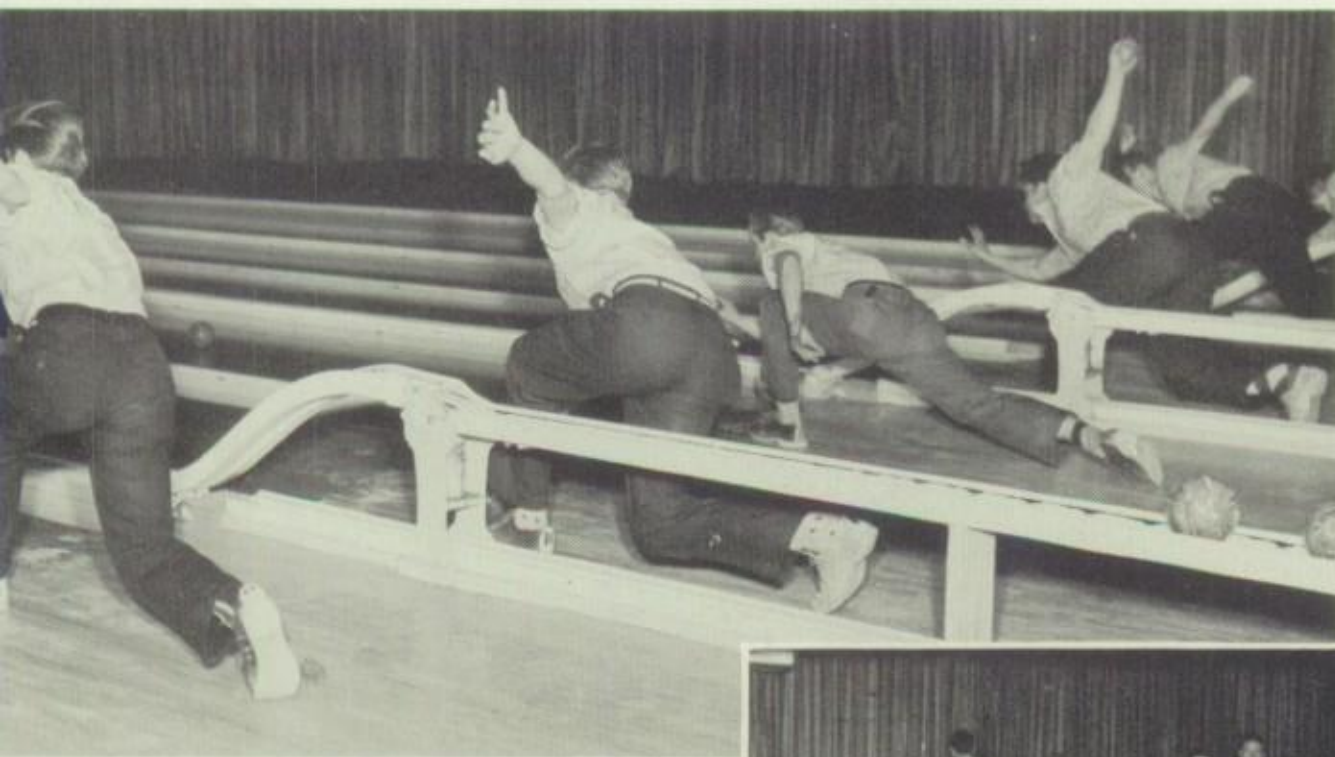

TOP MAN among the local duck pin experts is senior Karl Hils, Captain of the #1 Central team this year. Karl has averaged 140 in open competition among the Catholic high schools in the bi-partite league.

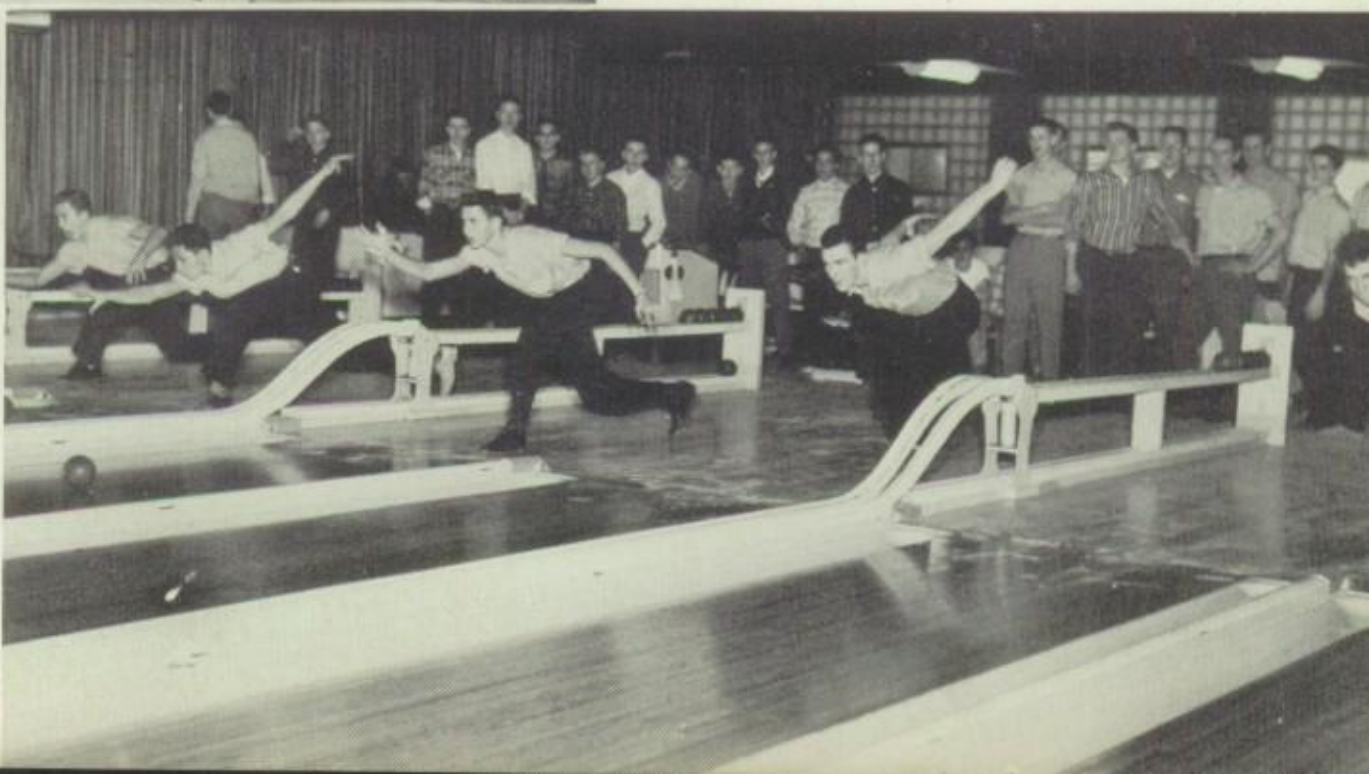

TEAM #2, who have kept within the second place in the Catholic school bowling league throughout the current season, have submitted the suggestion that would-be bowlers keep up their practice over the summer holidays. Kneeling are Bob DeHart, Den Mitsch, Albert Vogel; standing, Joe Barczak, Frank Funa, Frank Ambrose, Den Monahan, and Tim Kozlowski.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE in stance and in the results as practice sessions have shown to this group of Central varsity men: Joe Freiland, Tim Kozlowski, Fred Bence, Frank Ambrose, and Den Monahan.

THE FORM'S THE THING that makes success cling in the duck pin league. Varsity members John Burger, Frank Ambrose, Frank Funa, Bob Griffin; and John Roller open the afternoon session at University Alleys with a demonstration performance for the other bowlers.

TEAM ROSTER

SENIORS:

Henry Carr—2SS; Thomas Millan—2SS; Anthony Sarsfield—2SS; James Sabow—3SS; Robert Zieles—3SS; Paul Chapman—4SS; Matt Coyne—4SS; Robert Capozzoli—5SS; Gene Bender—1SC.

JUNIORS:

John McMahon—1JA; Bernard Carey—5JS; Frank Piontek—5JS; Larry Dziubek—6JS; Ted Rzeznik—6JS; Robert Dugo—2JC.

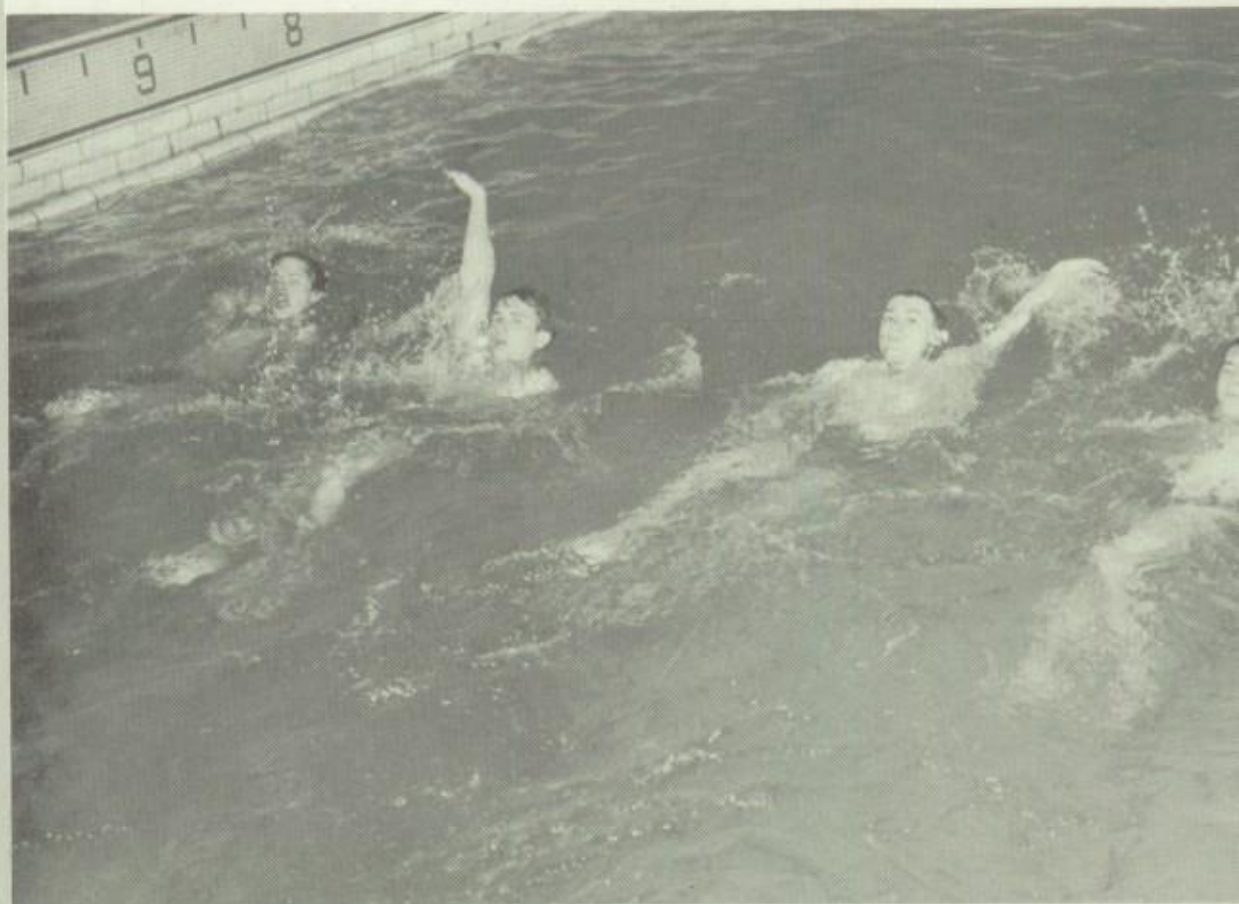

SOPHOMORES:

James Ireland—3S; Thomas Donatelli—6S; John Bonenberger—10S; Patrick Gormley—10S.

FRESHMEN:

Rod. Raynovich—2F; John Lilly—3F; Carl Flecker—4F; Regis Scanlon—6F; Robert Shantz—7F; Barry Chapman—12F.

POISED TO STRIKE into the deep are T. Rzeznik and T. Sarsfield, as they wait for the swimmers to touch so they may complete the last lap of the medley relay. Practice for relays is frequent since a relay victory means many points for the team.

HUNDRED YARD BACKSTROKE provides intrasquad competition. Here we see R. Shantz, F. Piontek, R. Zieles, and R. Donatelli engaging in one of the toughest of all swimming events.

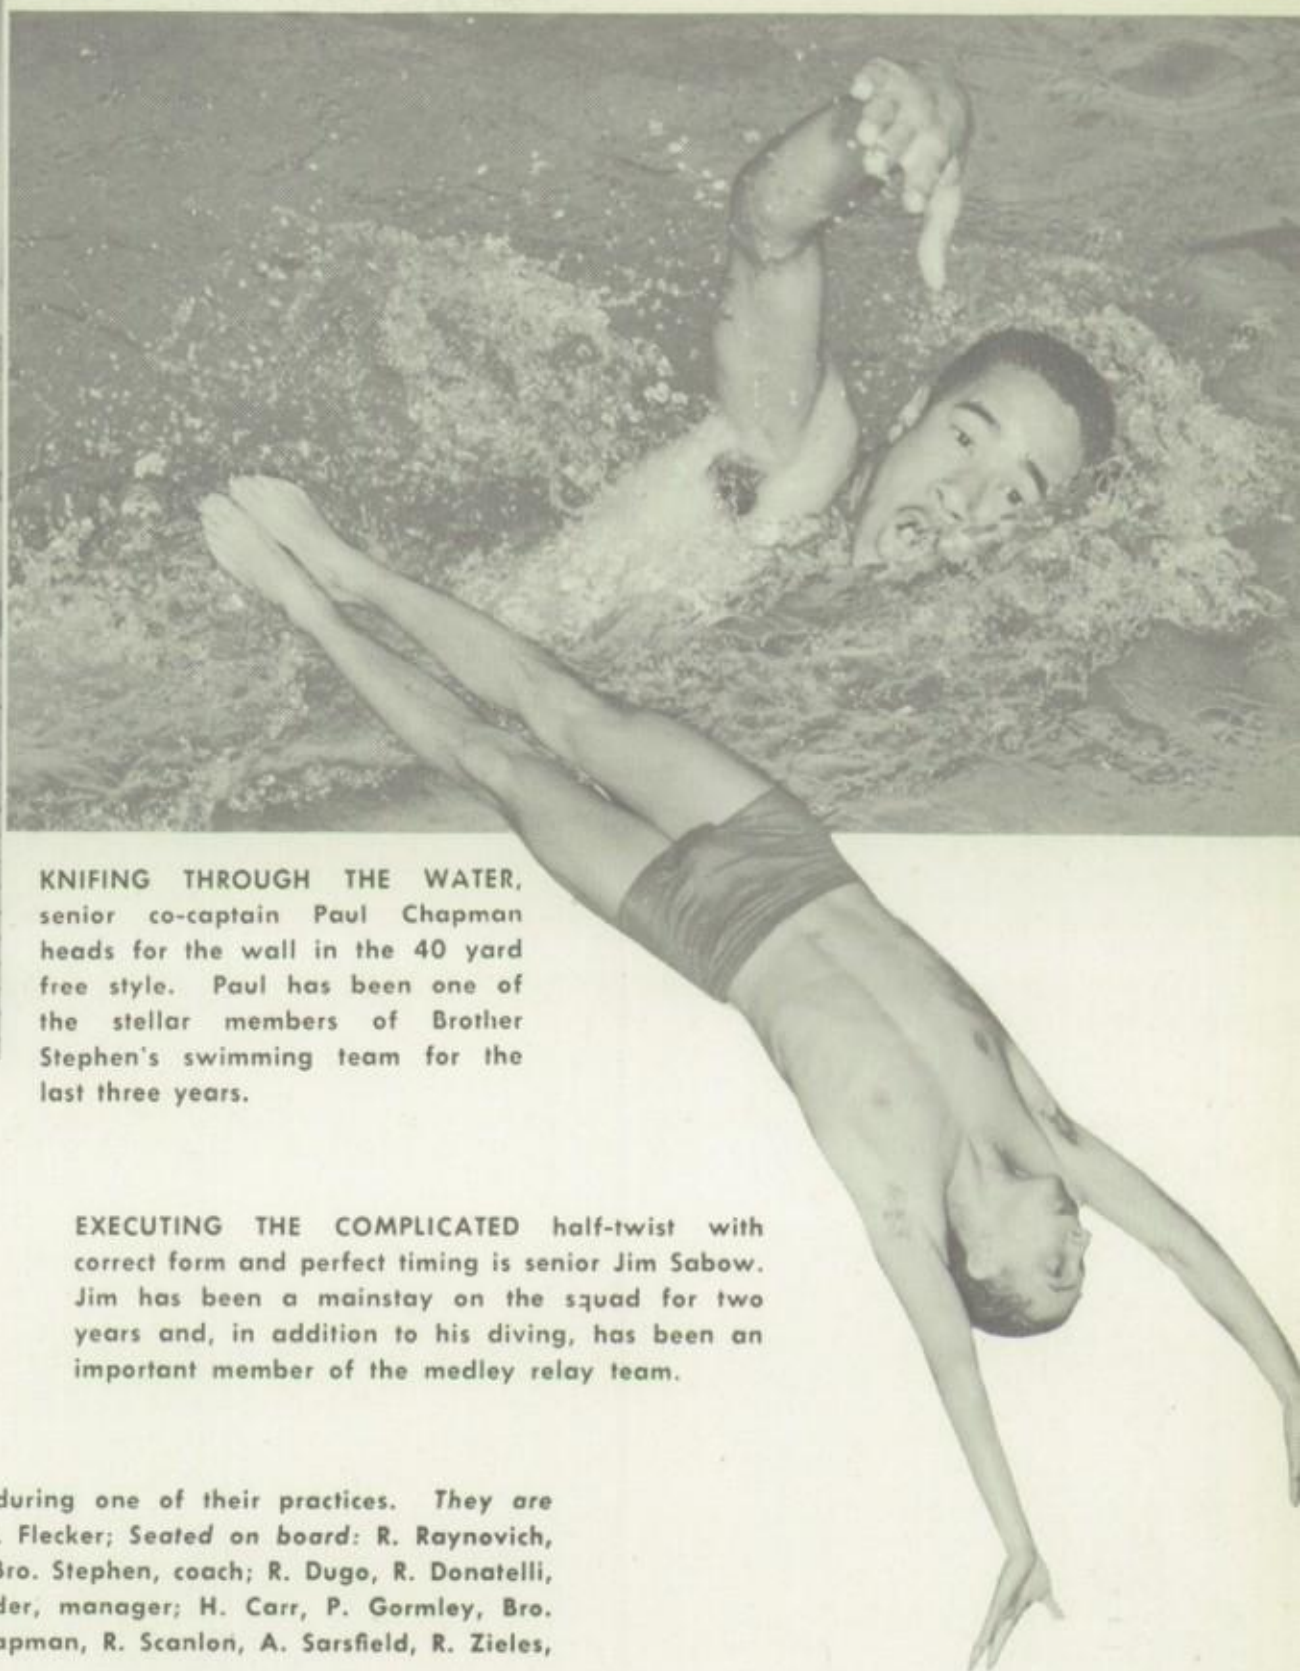

DEMONSTRATING HIS FIRST PLACE FORM is John Bonenburger, sophomore diver. John has helped the team greatly this year with his consistency in placing. Divers were one of the strongest points on this year's team which was one of the best Central has ever put into the water.

COORDINATION AND TIMING, perfectly demonstrated, keyes the graceful one and a half sommersault of Bob Capozzoli. One of Central's three divers, Bob has constantly merited first places with his outstanding form.

KNIFING THROUGH THE WATER,
 senior co-captain Paul Chapman heads for the wall in the 40 yard free style. Paul has been one of the stellar members of Brother Stephen's swimming team for the last three years.

EXECUTING THE COMPLICATED half-twist with correct form and perfect timing is senior Jim Sabow.
 Jim has been a mainstay on the squad for two years and, in addition to his diving, has been an important member of the medley relay team.

 seated on wall: R. Shantz, F. Piontek, B. Carey, J. Ireland, C. Flecker; Seated on board: R. Raynovich, J. Bonenburger, R. Capozzoli, J. Sabow; Standing, First Row: Bro. Stephen, coach; R. Dugo, R. Donatelli, J. Rzezniak, J. McMahon, B. Chapman; Second Row: G. Bender, manager; H. Carr, P. Gormley, Bro.
 Gilbert, coach; on board: M. Coyne, L. Dziubek, T. Lilly, P. Chapman, R. Scanlon, A. Sarsfield, R. Zieles, and T. Millan.

CHECKING TARGETS to be presented to Brother Leo, coach and moderator, varsity Rifle Team men Bill Fronczek, Arnold Vogel, Bob McLaughlin, and Leo Flanagan peer their eight eyes on the bull's eye in trying to anticipate the score in the opening shooting for honors among the Christian Brothers' schools league.

AS JOE GIOVANELLI points out his 97 shooting average card, his not entirely convinced audience of Nike Kollar, Bill Franczek, and Den Mangold observe critically competitors' scores.

SPOTTING SCORES enable Dave Edwards and Den Mangol to brief their fellow shooters on their accuracies as well as inaccuracies. Practies are held in the basement of the Margaret Morrison building at Carnegie Tech.

LOOK OUT! You're an easy target for the prone rifle club practicers, R. Contestabile, P. Nee, J. Byrne, and F. Geraci as they fire away for intrasquad honors on one of their Wednesday night practices at Carnegie Tech.

THE CENTRAL CATHOLIC RIFLE TEAM, reorganized this year by junior teacher Brother F. Leo, turn their backs on their targets to face the cameraman. Kneeling are W. Fronczek, A. Vogel, and M. Kollar; standing: D. Mangold, J. Giovanelli, R. McLaughlin, and R. Dean.

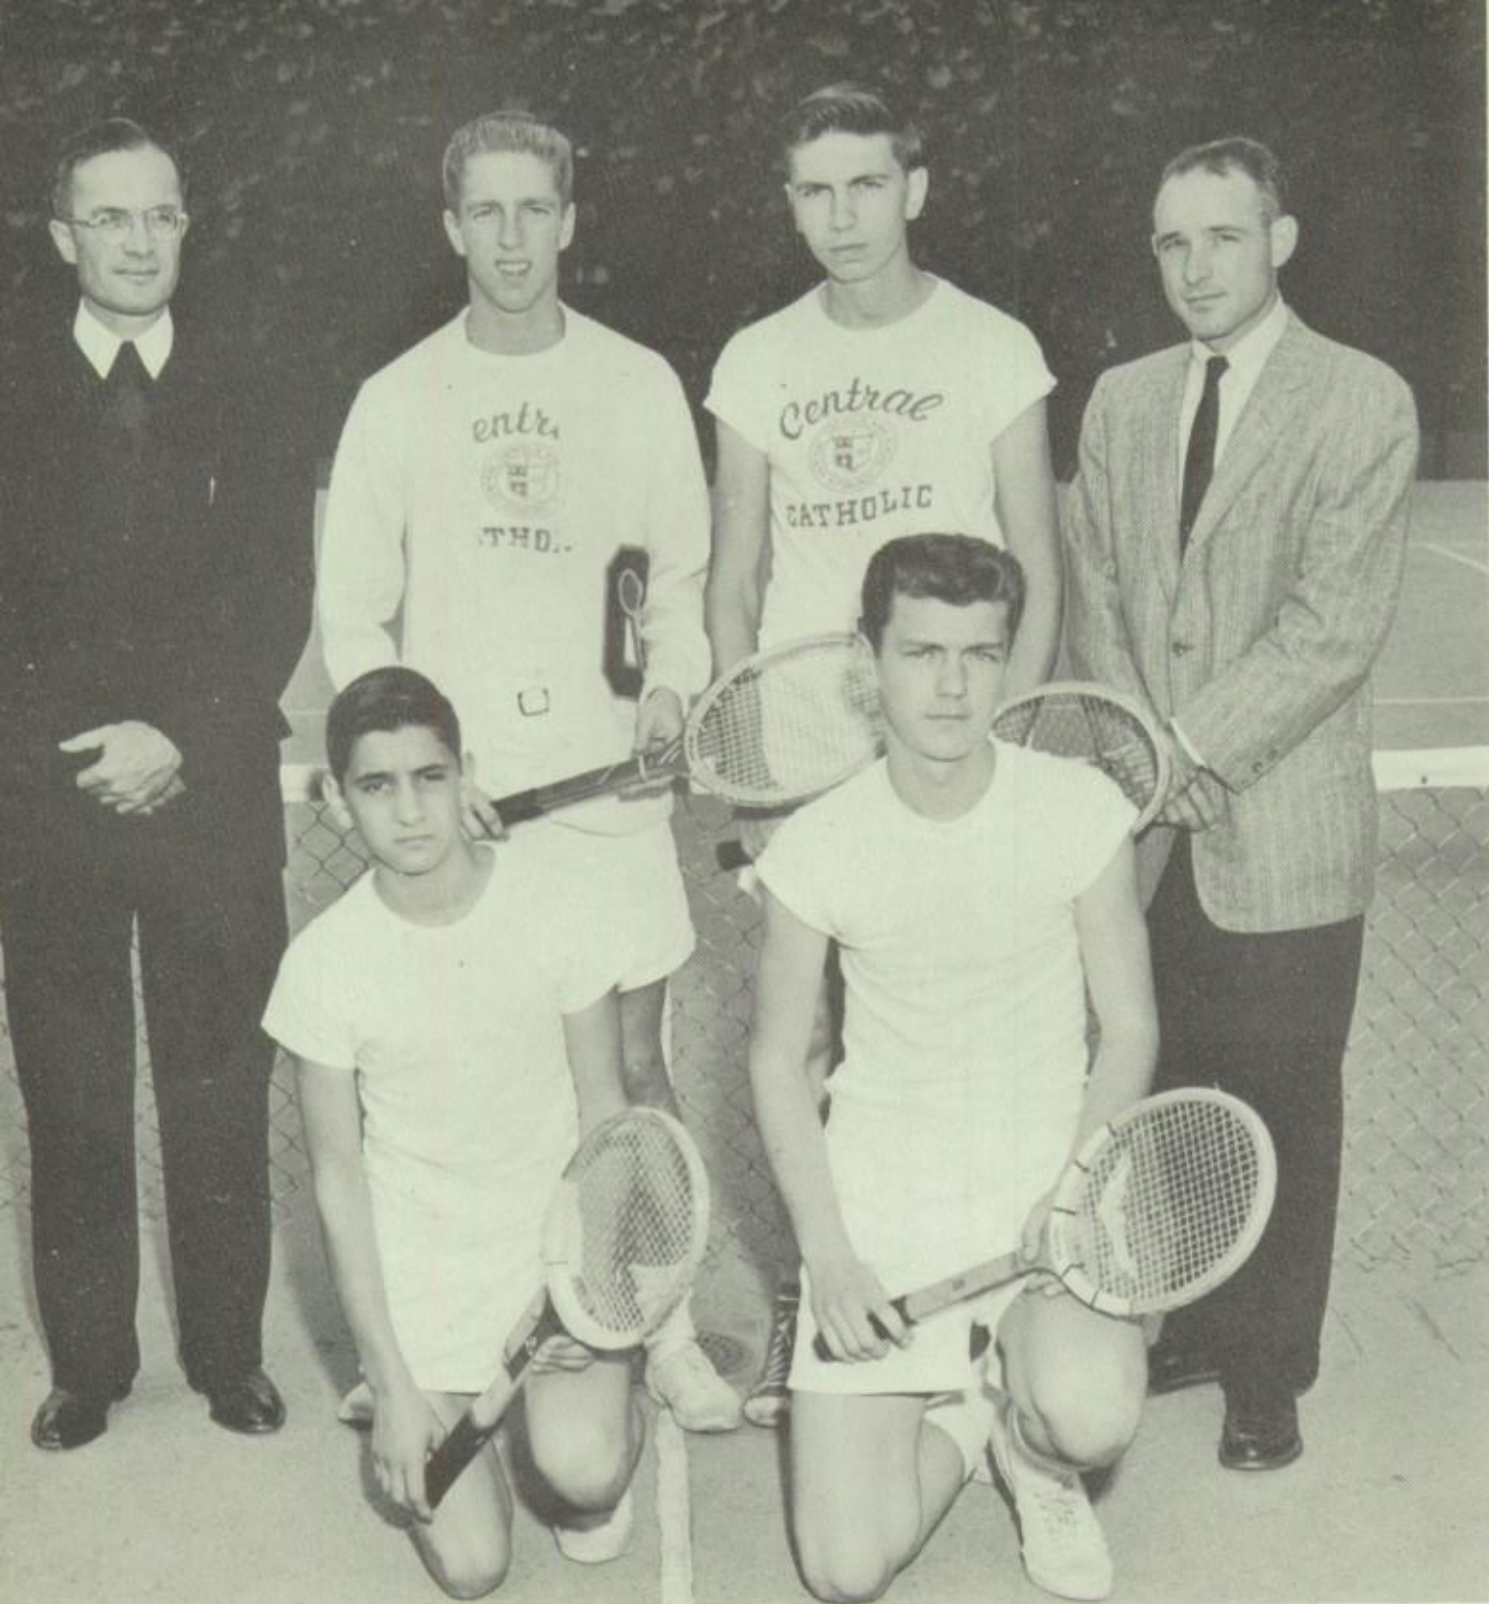

CHECKING THEIR TARGETS or checking Brother Leo's checking their targets to see who will place in team competition with other schools are L. Flanagan, J. Giovanelli, D. Edwards, D. Mangold, J. Blatnica, J. Kaniecki, and W. Gass.

The Aim's the Same

AS CHARTER RIFLEMEN Den Mangold and Joe Giovanelli oversee their positions, prone underclassmen R. Sestilli, R. Gennuso, F. Blahut, and P. Coyne aim for the honors of the Wednesday night session.

Serving for Central Net Gains

MIKE McSORLEY, one of the mainstays of this year's tennis team, practices his serve. Mike, like most of the members of the tennis squad, has served since his freshman year as one of Brother James' tennis proteges.

MR. TENNIS at Central Catholic and possibly among all teen-agers in the Pittsburgh area is sophomore Lenny Modzelewski. Here Lenny proudly displays the plaque he was awarded as a result of his triumph in the Second Annual Duquesne University Tournament. In addition to this individual plaque, the school was presented with a much larger traveling plaque.

JUNIOR INTRAMURAL bowling honors are conferred by Brother Claude on Class 1JA. As Frank Funa receives an individual scoring award, team members J. Wymard, R. Gadomski, P. Crimmins, D. Edwards, E. Kuzmic, and B. Tasky look on.

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY Alumni Plaque for outstanding singles in tennis throughout Western Pennsylvania was awarded to Central this year because of sophomore Len Modzelewski's success last summer. Mr. Sullivan of Duquesne here presents the plaque to Len.

Stars in Every Class

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL champions, class 15, pause in satisfaction after their hectic battle with class 85 in which 15 emerged victor and champ, 40-39. Seated are J. Vath, J. Diskin, T. DeLuca, B. Bowers, C. Montrose, M. Morris. Second row: Brother Richard, Moderator; D. Kaplan, F. Devere, J. Jarzynka, L. Connely, B. Conroy. Third row: F. McNulty, D. Yoest, J. Kirby, J. Frank, L. Young.

SOMETHING NEW in the intramural scene this year was class football competition among the underclasses. Freshman champs, 11F, scrimmage obligingly. Linemen are R. Gormley, J. Smith, R. Bona, J. Bauer, R. Oparnica, J. Damico, E. Shaffer. Backfield: T. O'Leary, A. Bucci, H. Blum.

SOPHOMORE intramural football honors went to class B this year after 55 fell in the final game. Kneeling are T. Crossen, R. Karpuska, T. Lynch, R. Horn, R. Bogacz, D. Stratiff. Standing: J. Phillips, R. Grady, A. Kozak, E. Drozdzynski, T. Grgurich, T. Masaro, and R. Gaughan.

A JUMP SHOT, engineered by 15C's Paul Pietrzyk in the senior playoff, helps narrow the margin as 15C attempts to come from behind. As 15C's McGinley looks toward the hoops for the rebound, 355's John Mieczkowski, Par Trichter, and Mike Carey move in to attempt a block.

Everybody Plays Varsity

FLASHING SMILES of victory, these members of class 2J5 pause to celebrate their sweep of the Junior football intramurals. Kneeling are: E. Bright, J. Clair, S. Castelli, R. Harkins, J. Rudjick, R. Queen and H. Dobscha. Standing are: J. Shields, S. Briley, R. Morrissey, J. Studnicki, G. Mitchell, A. Vogel and J. Hall.

SENIOR VICTORS in a rivalry of NIT proportions that featured their coming from the losers' bracket to overtake the winner bracket team, class 3SS gather at the scene of their triumph. Front row: P. Buccigrossi, J. Mieczkowski, J. Szymanski, J. Dauer, T. Bullighan, J. Miller (coach). Second row: J. Sable, P. Trichtinger, M. Carey, J. Merz, R. Coyne, R. Fisher. Third row: J. Walsh, J. Hanlon, J. O'Shea, J. Friday.

FULL COURT PRESS and Pietrzyk handling the ball brings class 1SC within two points of 3SS in the senior playoffs, as T. Cullighan, J. Dauer, and J. Mieczkowski turn to defensive in the hectic last minutes of the playoffs.

FRESHMAN CHAMPS, class 2F, maintain undisputed possession of the intramural lead throughout the season. But the last and championship game with 7F proved less decisive than expected as 2F beat 7F by the humble score of 13-10. Championship team members are, 1st row: J. Contrucci, W. Reardon, J. Chute, J. Smerdel, J. Covalesski. 2nd row: R. Blocksidge (coach), A. Mielcuszny, R. Nickel, J. Mazzone, J. Kirk, W. Czarkowski, and T. Czynarowicz.

PAUL PIETRZYK, 1SC and senior departmental intramural basketball star, adds another point to his average in the 3SS playoff tussle. Paul averaged some twenty points in each intramural game.

Catch This!

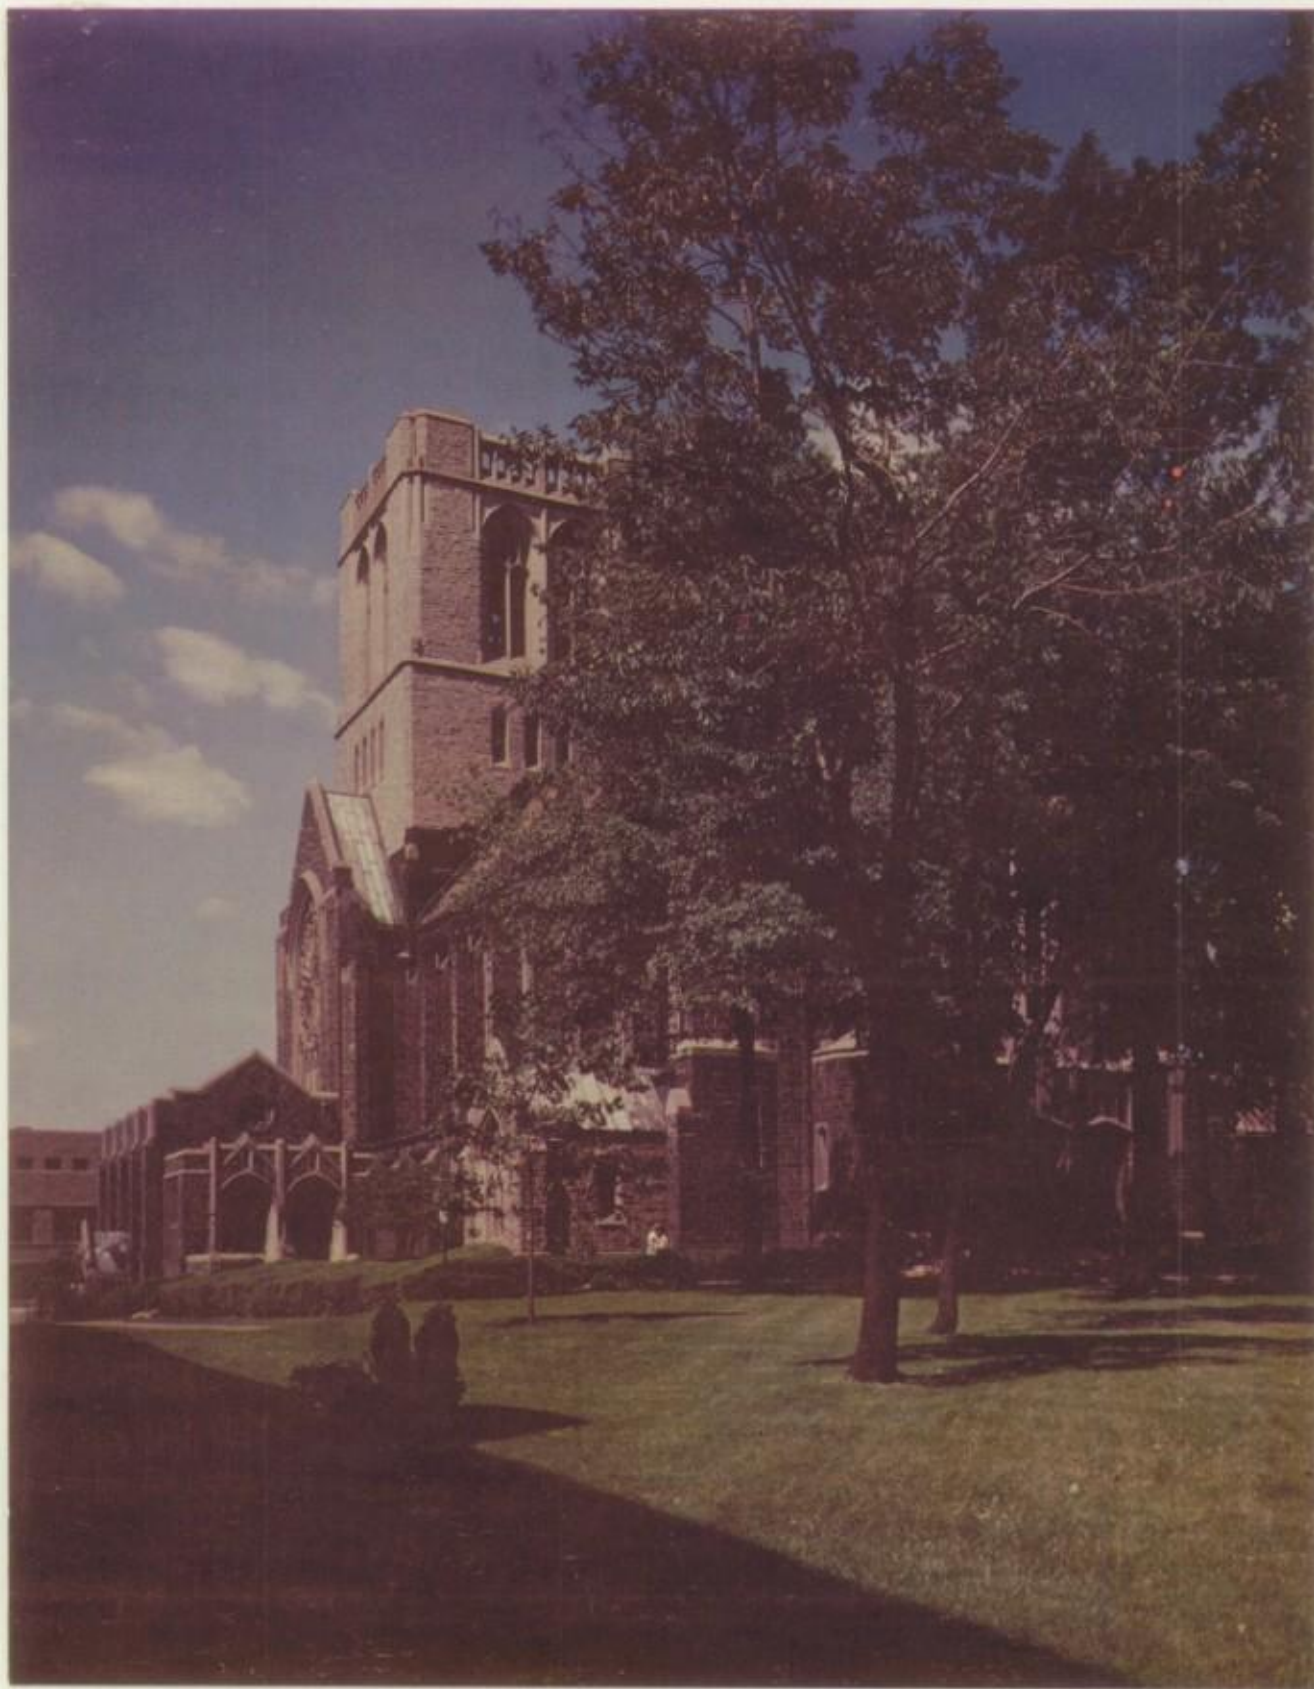

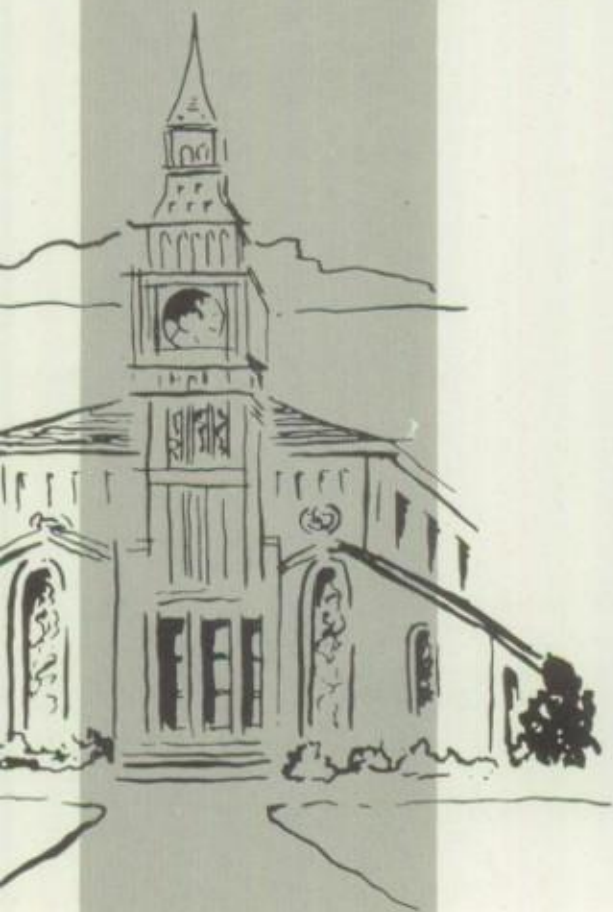

WITH THE STRINGER IN READINESS, Joe Di Francesco brings in another catfish. Standing by along the banks of the Allegheny in case Joe should be pulled in are fellow-anglers Rich Lewandowski, Joe Barczak, Don Gressler, Ray Birch and Brother Maurice.

PROUDLY displaying a day's catch of carp and catfish, Central Rod 'n Reel Club members Rob Holleczy and Joe Barczak kneel in front of less successful members of their group, before returning from a day of angling at North Park. Standing are Don Gressler, John Pison, Brother Maurice, Joe Di Francesco, and Ray Birch.

THE ONES THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY are proudly shown by members of the Fishing Club (back row): Brother Claude, Don Gressler, President of the Club, Henry Carr, Gilbert McGurl, Joe Di Francesco, and Brother Maurice; kneeling: Joe Barczak, Den Mangold, Rich Lewandowski, and Ray Birch. Every other week in the autumn and the spring, members of this Club head for fishing spots that include North Park, the Allegheny River, Emlenton, and Ligonier to pursue this leisurely sport.

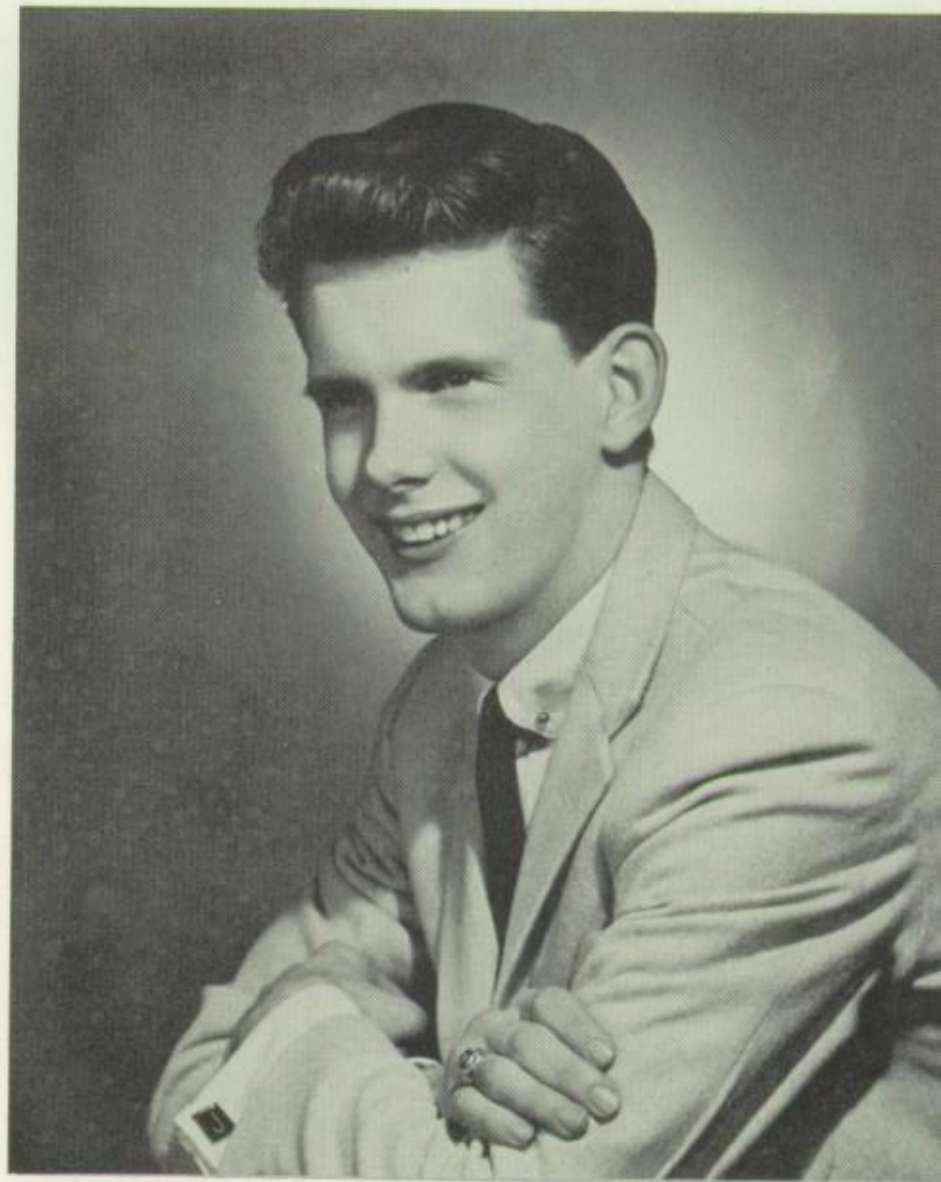

A superior leaven of efficiency, maturity, leadership, intelligence, and personality seems to be monopolized locally by activities-minded DENNIS KOMPARE. Since his coming to Central from St. Raphael's, Morningside, Denny has participated actively in the Blue Knights, the orchestra, the intramural program, and the school honor societies. And, as Secretary of the Student Council, as chairman of proms and school dances, his unstinted devotion to school activities has represented much of the measure of student initiative in our extra-curricular program.

Voted the Outstanding Penna. Catholic Schoolboy Athlete by the Catholic War Veterans this year, JOSEPH FRIDAY somehow has managed to bear a series of cross country honors with amazing modesty. From Sacred Heart parish, Joe has been Mr. Cross Country of our state championship team. He has taken first place in all meets except the Phila. Inquirer meet. Running 13:06, he has broken the Phila. Cobbs Creek time barriers and at our own Schenley Oval holds the schoolboy record of 11:38. Last year, his track mile read 4:32, so with a certain complacency we feel this year and the future will mean more records for this leader of our most consistently successful sport.

ROBERT ZIELES, second graduate scholastically in the class of 1957.

Through a four year reservation earned by diligent study, honors for the Central Catholic student and scholar for the class of 1957 belong indisputably to ALBERT LABRIOLA of Our Lady Help of Christians parish. Since his coming to Central, Al's devotion to study has been perhaps more amazing to his teacher than to his fellow-students. His perseverance has reaped him the singular distinction of four year survival of the academic course with a ninety-eight average. Notwithstanding his superiority in studies, Al has been markedly unassuming about his success. To supplement his activities, Al lists intramural sports and occasional nights at a bowling alley as his non-scholastic interests.

ST. LAWRENCE O'TOOLE, Garfield, boasts of a life-size statue of the patron saint of the parish on the parish grounds. Before the statue of St. Lawrence on Penn Avenue are R. O'Connor, T. Sharpski, R. Kotwa and W. Hillgrove. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Paul E. Campbell, Litt.D., LL.D., former Superintendent of Pittsburgh diocesan schools, administers to the needs of the parish with the aid of the Dominican Sisters of Columbus, Ohio, who staff the grade school and girls' high school.
